DICTATORS PROCLAIM THEIR TWIN POLICIES WORKING FOR PEACE

Mussolini Calls Italy and Germany Greatest Democracies—Resolutely United Against Threat Of Bolshevism—Il Duce Declares Italy Justified in Part Played in Spanish War

By WADE WERNER
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

BERLIN, Sept. 28 (AP).—Peace, but not at the price of Bolshevism, Premier Mussolini and Reichsfuehrer Hitler proclaimed today as their twin policies. Il Duce and the Fuehrer, in a climax to the Italian leader's visit to Germany, symbolically linked arms in declarations that Fascism and Nazism are supreme and resolutely united against any threat.

"Europe will become Fascist," Mussolini shouted in German to 1,000,000 rain-soaked Germans at a mass meeting in the Olympic Stadium and to the rest of the world by broadcast.

"GREATEST DEMOCRACIES"
He called Italy and Germany "the greatest democracies" and Bolshevism "the regime of slavery, famine and blood."

The two leaders arrived at the stadium after driving in an open automobile from the Wilhelmstrasse through the streets jammed with spectators.

Their entry was heralded by a half-hour's tolling of the 1936 Olympic bell, by the roll of drums and blare of trumpets, and by thousands of opened umbrellas as rain began to fall heavily.

Hitler, in a gesture that caused the crowd to cheer wildly, took Mussolini by the arm when they approached the tribune and escorted.

CENTRALIZATION ABSOLUTE NEED

Employment Problem Must Be Attacked Through Dominion, Purvis Says

OTTAWA, Sept. 29 (AP).—Nation-wide attack on the employment problem through authority centralized in the Dominion Government, is essential if the benefits of improving conditions are to be realized, Arthur B. Purvis, chairman of the National Employment Commission stated here today.

Throughout Western Canada, where he went to survey conditions, Mr. Purvis said, he had found all Provincial Governments willing to support a placement plan in which the Dominion would have central administrative authority.

MUST GIVE IMPETUS
"Local plans must be worked out by local committees," the commission chairman said, "but the impetus must be given by the Dominion."

"I was delighted at the support all are prepared to give to the employment commission in its attack on the problem."

The Employment Service of Canada must be reorganized, he declared. As at present constituted, placement bureaus in each province were under provincial authority, although money support was afforded by the Dominion Government.

VOLUNTEER COMMITTEES
His recommendation would be that by agreement with the provinces, a vigorous director be appointed by the Dominion under which local volunteer committees of employers and labor could attack problems of job-finding.

The four Western Provinces had already assured him they are willing for the Dominion to give administrative direction, Mr. Purvis declared. Later, he would visit the Maritimes, Quebec and Ontario, and was sure the proposal would also be welcomed there.

MOVEMENT TO BOYCOTT GOODS FROM JAPAN GROWS IN BRITAIN

Russian Press Warns of the Soviet's Might as Troops Gather on Border

PRIMATE TO PRESIDE AT PROTEST MEETING

LONDON, Sept. 28 (AP).—A growing movement toward boycotting Japanese goods as a protest against the bombardment of open cities in China received impetus tonight when the South Wales Miners' Federation, meeting at Cardiff, urged an international boycott.

Coming shortly after a milk bar firm announced cancellation of an order for 100,000,000 Japanese drinking straws, the Miners' Federation suggested the general council of the Trades Union Congress promote such a policy through working class organizations, particularly in European countries, Canada, the United States and Australia.

A miniature Sino-Japanese "war" flared briefly in a West End motion picture theatre when newsreel shots of Japanese air raids were shown.

Several Japanese in the audience applauded. Others in the theatre booed. Chinese started a fist fight with the Japanese. Police put an

Thousands Demanding Resignation

EDMONTON, Sept. 28 (AP).—More than 7,100 persons jammed the Prince of Wales Armories here tonight at a meeting sponsored by the People's League of Alberta, and passed resolutions condemning "Aberhartism and ruthless dictatorship."

Colin D. MacKenzie, chairman of the meeting, said another 2,000 persons heard the addresses while sitting in automobiles outside the building.

Resignation of Premier Aberhart and his Government was demanded.

Expected 250 Candidates Will Enter Ontario Election Fight

TORONTO, Sept. 28 (AP).—Amid a fanfare of speech-making nominations will close tomorrow for Ontario's twentieth Provincial general election since Confederation. Indications are about 250 candidates will be in the running for ninety seats in the Legislature. Voting is October 6.

The Liberal party, seeking return to office under the leadership of Premier Mitchell Hepburn, expects to have eighty-six candidates in the field. The Conservative party has approved eighty-eight candidates and the Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation, thirty-eight.

Under various banners, twenty-nine aspirants have announced they will run against representatives of the three main political organizations.

PREPARING TWO CRUCIAL DRIVES

Spanish Insurgent Armies Massing for Advance in Northern Spain

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Sept. 28 (AP).—Spanish insurgent armies massed tonight for two crucial drives in North Spain, against Gijon on the Bay of Biscay and in the Eastern Aragon front south of the French border.

Insurgents captured Ribadellera, one of the chief obstacles on the march to Gijon, last Government port on the Biscayan coast.

Ribadellera's normal population of 20,000 had dwindled to 7,000, insurgents said, but the city itself was not damaged badly.

Another insurgent army, estimated at 250,000 troops, was mobilized for a critical phase of the civil war in the Northeast. Its objective was to control areas over which Government troops might import munitions in the event France opens its frontier to the transport of war materials. A successful drive east would isolate Barcelona and Upper Catalonia, important sources of support for the Madrid-Valencia regime, from the rest of Government Spain.

MADRID, Sept. 28 (AP).—Seven hours of hard hand-to-hand fighting enabled Spanish Government troops today to occupy a strategic insurgent outpost dominating siege lines in the Utrera suburbs, south of Madrid.

Shanghai Rocked By Bombardment At Break of Day

Cheering Reports Given of Decline In Epidemic's Toll

TORONTO, Sept. 28 (AP).—Health authorities across the Dominion hailed with cheer tonight reports of a definite fall-off in the number of new infantile paralysis cases. Only seven cases of the disease, which has taken seventy-seven lives since mid-June, were reported—five in Toronto and two in Saint John.

First Women Jurors Attend In New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP).—Flourishing powder puffs and mirrors, the first women jurors ever to be empaneled in New York City took their places alongside male colleagues today.

In their initial verdict, the women jurors ruled against a member of their own sex in a divorce action.

Judges made polite speeches welcoming "the good women and true" and instructed lawyers to shun unnecessary legal phraseology.

THORNTON GREETED U.S. PRESIDENT

Thousands Line Streets as Roosevelt Arrives for Seattle Visit

SEATTLE, Sept. 28 (AP).—Thousands lined the streets tonight to cheer President and Mrs. Roosevelt as they arrived here for a two-day visit with their daughter, son-in-law and grandchildren.

The presidential train arrived at 9:35 p.m., and a motorcade of twenty automobiles later started a procession from the depot through the downtown business section, with throngs packed at the curbs cheering the chief executive and his party.

The President's automobile was in the lead, with a police motorcycle escort clearing the way. Next came a secret service car; then one with Secretary Marvin H. McIntyre and other members of the presidential staff.

Following was an automobile carrying Mr. and Mrs. John Boettiger, son-in-law and daughter of the President, who flew to Yellowstone Park to meet him, and James Roosevelt, the President's eldest son, and his wife.

The President and Mrs. Roosevelt, the Boettigers and the James Roosevelts continued to the Boettiger home at Lawtonwood, near Fort Lawton, where the chief executive was to stay after the procession disbanded.

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

FIRE BURNS IN VANCOUVER HOTEL
VANCOUVER, Sept. 29.—At 2:45 o'clock this morning a two-alarm fire was burning in the Hotel Belmont, corner of Nelson and Granville Streets. All occupants of the building were removed to safety. The fire started in the women's beverage room, in the basement.

REPORT JAPANESE HAVE MYSTERY ANTI-AERIAL GUN
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP).—United States military authorities believe Japan may be on the verge of bringing out a "mystery" gun for use in the Chinese aerial combat. It probably will be a large calibre anti-aircraft rifle, they say, adding world powers are eager to see what part it may play in the race between modern planes and repelling batteries for air supremacy.

OTTAWA WILL AWAIT ALBERTA LEGISLATION
OTTAWA, Sept. 28 (AP).—Any new legislation that may be passed by the Alberta Legislature will be dealt with by the Dominion Government when it is formally submitted for consideration, Prime Minister Mackenzie King said tonight, following the regular weekly Cabinet Council. Until then, the Prime Minister would not comment on reports from Edmonton.

IMPOSSIBLE TO REMOVE LEVEL CROSSINGS
TORONTO, Sept. 28 (AP).—Hon. Hugh Guthrie, chairman of the Railway Board, tonight declared there were "perhaps 25,000 dangerous crossings unprotected in Canada. If we made orders to remove them all, where would Canada be?" he asked. "There is not enough money in Canada to do it. It is ridiculous to think we could remove all these crossings."

HERTZOG BLAMES TREATY OF VERSAILLES
PRETORIA, South Africa, Sept. 28 (C.P. Reuters).—General J. B. Hertzog, Prime Minister of South Africa, tonight denounced collective security, and attributed international distrust in Europe to the "war psychology of 1918." General Hertzog labeled the Treaty of Versailles the source of the present international distrust and armaments race, but said South Africa should support the League of Nations.

Chinese Attempt to Sink Japanese Flagship Signal for Intense Activity of Artillery—Heavy Damage Done by Japanese Bombs—Only Military Targets Attacked by Planes

Japanese Forces in North Moving Steadily Southward

SHANGHAI, Sept. 29 (AP).—Violent Sino-Japanese artillery bombardments rocked Shanghai today as opponents in the conflict were fired to intense activity by an apparent Chinese attempt to blow up the Japanese flagship Idzumo. Chinese civilians in the city were thrown into a panic and windows in the downtown business area were shattered as a series of thunderous explosions along the Whangpoo River heralded the dawn.

It was believed the Chinese attempted to torpedo the Idzumo. Instantly all the Japanese warships in the river, from the Japanese Consulate here to Woosung, opened up a heavy cannonading.

ARTILLERY EXCHANGES
Chinese artillery concealed in Pootung, industrial area across the Whangpoo from Shanghai, replied briskly, sending shells screaming over their own civilians on this side of the river at Japanese positions. The firing continued for nearly an hour, awakening the entire city.

Dense smoke prevented observers from estimating the amount of damage done, but two Japanese destroyers were seen hurriedly taking up positions abreast of the Idzumo, many times the target of Chinese artillery and air-bombs.

CLASH OVER WAR POLICY

Russia in Disagreement With Britain and France At Geneva

GENEVA, Sept. 28 (AP).—Soviet Russia tonight clashed with France and Great Britain over delaying League of Nations action on Spain's fourteen-month civil war.

Russia was aroused by a Franco-British request for postponement while the two powers confer with Premier Mussolini for withdrawal of Italian volunteers from Spain.

Instead of waiting, Soviet Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff urged the Madrid-Valencia Government be granted "two planes for every one" the insurgents command and be given full access to war supplies abroad.

PREDICTS QUICK END
He predicted such abandonment of non-intervention would bring a quick end to the civil war.

Spain expressed dissatisfaction with the policy of awaiting the outcome of Franco-British conversations with Italy and rejected a resolution to that effect. The Spanish delegate, Julio Alvarez Del Vayo, then was asked to prepare his resolution.

It was made plain this resolution would embody the original Spanish appeal against alleged Italian and German aggression. Delegates predicted a quick end.

Now Four Vacancies In Senate

OTTAWA, Sept. 28 (AP).—Death of Senator Rodolphe Lemieux, former member of the Sir Wilfrid Laurier Cabinet, died today at his home after a five-day illness. He was seventy-one.

Senator Lemieux, active until a cold confined him to his bed last Friday, died at his home on residential Sherbrooke Street here at 3:10 this afternoon. His wife and five of his brothers were at the bedside.

Senator Lemieux had been ailing for about five years, suffering from a kidney ailment, but he continued to take an active part in the affairs in which he was interested. Only last week, the senator attended several meetings of business and other institutions with which he was connected.

HELD HIGH PORTFOLIO
Mr. Lemieux was elected to the House of Commons in 1896 and continued in the House until his elevation to the Upper Chamber in 1930. In 1904 he became Solicitor-General in Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Cabinet, and in 1906 he was chosen for the portfolio of Postmaster-General, continuing in the post until 1911, when he became Minister of Marine and Fisheries, which office he vacated when the Government went down to defeat a few months later. Later he had the unparalleled distinction of being Speaker for three successive Parliaments. He was widely known as an eloquent public speaker and a lecturer on Canadian law and international law.

MAY NOT SUBMIT BRIEF AT INQUIRY

Motion Before Alberta House Proposes That Province Ignore Rowell Commission

EDMONTON, Sept. 28 (AP).—Notice of motion to have Alberta refrain from submitting a brief to the Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial Taxation and Relations, was given in the Legislature today by G. L. MacLachlan, chairman of the Alberta Social Credit Board. The resolution is expected to be debated tomorrow. Critical of the personnel of the commission, headed by Chief Justice M. W. Rowell, of Ontario, the motion declares: "The terms of reference are so wide as to enable the commission to make almost any sweeping changes in our constitution it sees fit so long as they be within the limits of the present financial system."

Closure of Roadway Will Be Subject of Protest by Saanich

Failure to Object Would Mean Loss of Park Area, Councillors Point Out—Road Estimates in Wards Are Increased

SAANICH Council unanimously agreed to protest the closure of Doncaster Drive, north of Tattersall Drive, at a special meeting, called to consider the matter last evening.

According to the official map of the area in dispute, a summit of rock rises at the end of Doncaster Drive, which may be used for park purposes. Eleven acres, comprising twenty-four parcels of land, in the immediate vicinity have been purchased by J. J. Drill, Portland, and the road leading up to the park has been closed.

Since objection to closure of any road must be taken within twenty-one days, and the time has almost expired, the council meeting was imperative.

Councillor E. C. Warren described a meeting with the municipal solicitor, at which—Councillor John Watson and R. R. F. Sewell, municipal clerk, were present. They were informed by the solicitor that the authorization of closure could be canceled if the matter was taken before a County Court judge, provided that petitioners appeared and made their objections known.

SEVERAL PETITIONERS

Thirty-eight residents had made their objection to the closing of the road known to him, said Councillor Watson.

It was pointed out that since the council had passed no previous resolution regarding the matter, the municipality might be assessed the costs of the case, which are expected to be in the neighborhood of $150. Councillors declared that a previous petition which had been submitted would have carried sufficient weight. The matter of road expenditure was also carefully considered. Figures to August 31 showed that $41,665.61 out of a total appropriation of $43,000 had already been spent.

OVER-EXPENDITURE

Over-expenditure in Wards One, Two and Four and for general purposes amounted to $1,134. It was pointed out that with three months of the year yet to be faced, it was not possible to do the work required and stay within estimates.

At the suggestion of Reeve William Crouch, it was decided to increase estimates in every ward $1,000, with the exception of Ward Four. Since additional work is required in that ward, it will be granted the sum of $1,250. No ward representative may go beyond these figures without the assent of the council.

FLYING PHYSICIAN FOUND IN JUNGLE

Hely said Dr. Fenton made a forced night landing, due to shortage of fuel, alongside a water hole of the Cox River watercourse. The physician's plane was not damaged.

Determined to conserve his concentrated foods as long as possible, Dr. Fenton attempted to shoot a duck with a Very Light pistol, but the pistol's "kick" injured his nose.

One night Dr. Fenton found a cow bogged deeply in a waterhole, he told Hely. The physician stunned it with a piece of wood and cut its throat with a pocketknife. But, because the cow was under the mud he was unable to cut off much meat and his food was practically exhausted when he was found.

Hely described the rescue as follows:

"Two hours after leaving Newcastle Waters on our search flight we sighted smoke and saw a white spot in a clearing in scrubby country.

"We were relieved when we found it was the missing plane and saw Dr. Fenton walking about. We dropped a message asking if our plane could land there. Dr. Fenton spelled out in white lint: 'O.K. You land.'

"He had cleared obstructions and flagged the area on which we landed. He was obviously weak from lack of proper sustenance. We gave him food and cold water, rested an hour, then set out for Newcastle Waters.

"On the way back Dr. Fenton told us he had been blown from his course after missing Tanumbirini Station to which he had been summoned to give medical aid.

"Running out of petrol, he was forced to land. The nervous strain of the long exposure, loneliness and lack of proper food seriously weakened him. Flies in millions made conditions almost untenable."

ELK LAKE RESIDENT TAKEN BY DEATH IN VICTORIA HOSPITAL

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Catherine Campbell, at home; four sons, Hugh J. W. Colin and Edward A. Campbell, all in Saanich, and James H. Campbell, Vancouver; three daughters, Mrs. J. E. Speed, Mrs. H. J. Hodson and Mrs. Fred V. Painter, all of Victoria; four brothers and two sisters, also twenty grandchildren.

The funeral will be held from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel on Friday at 2 p.m. Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., officiating. Interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

VISITOR TELLS ABOUT RUSSIA

Mrs. June Seymour, Author, Describes Conditions Under Soviet Government

Mrs. June Seymour, of Toronto, author of "In the Moscow Manner," gave a most illuminating picture of present-day Russia as she saw it during eighteen months' residence there as the wife of an American engineer, employed by the Soviet Government. She addressed an audience gathered at the invitation of Mrs. Curtis Sampson at her home, "Mollen Combe," Newport Avenue, last evening.

In compliment to the speaker, the executive and several members of the Vancouver Island branch of the Canadian Authors' Association were present, and through Miss Eugenie Perry, seconded by Mr. Albert Sullivan, at the close of the interesting talk expressed deep appreciation both to the speaker and the hostess, Mrs. Sampson.

Quite informally, almost without notes, Mrs. Seymour told about her entry into Russia and from that proceeded to describe the people, their temperament, social and business customs, their relations with officialdom, food, living conditions, rents, cost of clothing and other commodities, newspapers, literature, religion, theatres, art, and many other aspects of life. A point which she reiterated over and over again, with several pointed illustrations, was the apparent inconsistency of action on the part of officials.

AMUSING INCIDENT

She and her husband played a principal role in an incident cited by way of illustration. They were taking a snapshot when an official appeared as if by magic "from nowhere" and demanded their camera. Her husband protested, and instantly about a score more officials appeared from the same mysterious source, and they were hustled off and put under guard while the matter went to higher quarters to be discussed for about three hours. Without explanation they were taken to a hotel, where to their amazement instead of being further punished they were "treated like royalty" for some weeks, receiving the best of meals, an unheard-of liberal supply of clean linen and towels, and every luxury the country afforded. Then, equally inexplicable, they were ordered out of the country.

"There seems no rhyme or reason for many things that happen in the country," the speaker commented. Great favoritism is shown the so-called "worker," who is given all the privileges in the way of free schooling (even the men and women of sixty and seventy attend classes), hospitalization, and entertainment, including theatres. Theatres were packed, and patrons had to book their seats weeks ahead. The ballet was still Government-owned, and the worker-class got the best seats for "next to nothing." Marked distinction was shown in treatment of the children of workers and the children of "white-collar" jobs. People of the old classes now found it difficult to get education.

FAVOR PROPAGANDA

The position of the would-be writer furnished another index to government attitudes. An author or reporter could not write freely, the choice of subjects being limited both as to material and treatment: The progress of the Soviet state, mass production, something that would stimulate the people and serve as propaganda for the existing system. Mrs. Seymour did say, however, that greater freedom might now be enjoyed than when she was there three years ago.

Miss Eugenie Perry arranged the remainder of the informal programme last evening. Mrs. Doris Forne's of the Poetry Group of the Authors' Association, spoke about The Canadian Poetry Magazine, published in Toronto, and read selections therefrom; and Miss Audrey Alexandra Brown read and recited some of her own poems. Refreshments were served to conclude the proceedings.

SHANGHAI ROCKED BY BOMBARDMENT

The heaviest firing occurred just as the rising sun silhouetted the horizon and bathed the entire Pootung Peninsula in crimson that made it appear the land was on fire.

TERRIFIC BOMBARDMENT

The Japanese later switched their attack to the North Station sector, artillery and bombing planes carrying out a terrific bombardment.

The Welsh Fusiliers, British troops, were ordered to abandon their lookout stations and take bombproof cover when one shell fell within twenty feet of their lines.

Japanese shells struck the Railway Administration Building four times, while within an area of 1,000 square yards between the North Station and the Commercial Press Building, Japanese war planes dropped eighty bombs. Damage was heavy but casualties were unknown.

ONLY MILITARY TARGETS

Japanese air raiders made new forays yesterday on centres of Chinese resistance but, apparently in response to protests against mounting destruction and non-combatant deaths, bombed only military targets.

The attacks, over a widespread area of Central and South China, were aimed primarily against Chinese air forces which a Japanese

Premier Pattullo To Deliver Radio Broadcast Today

PREMIER Pattullo, speaking from his office at the Legislative Buildings, will renew a series of radio broadcasts over the British Columbia stations of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation today. The Premier will go on the air at 9 p.m. in a half-hour broadcast over CFCV, CPCT and other stations in a British Columbia network, it was announced at his offices yesterday. spokesman declared already have been severely crippled.

A Japanese fleet bombed an airport five miles from the city of Wuhu, thirty miles southwest of Nanking, China's capital. Wuhu itself, however, was not harmed.

In Nanking, also, thickly-populated areas were avoided during a ten-minute raid on a military air-drome.

Japanese bombing squadrons struck three times in Canton, main port of South China, and twice in Shanghai.

RAIDS INEFFECTIVE

Neither the Shanghai nor the Nanking raids were effective. The capital's aerial defence fleet met the Japanese and drove them off. Although the Shanghai "anti-aircraft" guns scored no hits, they kept the Japanese too high for accurate aim.

A Japanese naval spokesman said Chinese airdromes at Kwangteh, Hangchow, Changin, Kashing and Tachiaochang, outside Nanking, also were bombed.

BIG THRUST SOUTH

PEIPING, Sept. 28 (P).—Japanese advisers reported tonight Japan's North China army had fought its way across the Shaho River to within twenty miles of Shihchiachang, strategically vital city at the junction of the Peiping-Hankow and Peiping-Taiyuanfu railroads.

Led by an armored train, the Japanese detachments thrust fifty miles south of recently-captured Peipingfu, making more than 150 miles they have advanced south of Peiping along the railway to Hankow.

Since breaching North China's fortified line of Peipingfu, Nippon's warriors have moved steadily southward, encountering no resistance sufficient to delay their progress.

In the East the fall of Hsienhsien was said to be imminent. A Japanese column drove to within a few miles of the city, eighty-five miles southwest of Tientsin. Scattered reports indicated another Japanese column was sweeping westward across South Hopei Province in a fast mopping-up drive.

end to the clash, expelling the combatants. There were no arrests.

The Archbishop of Canterbury accepted an invitation to preside next Tuesday at an Albert Hall meeting to protest Japanese military operations against non-combatants.

The Miners' Federation representing 120,000 members, in its resolution expressed its "deep horror at the savage and inhuman massacre of defenceless men, women and children in China by invading armed forces of Japan."

WARNING FROM RUSSIA

MOSCOW, Sept. 28 (P).—Russia's Government-inspired press warned tonight of the Soviet's might in war. The Red Army's organ, Red Star, even threatened that Russia would fight an enemy on its own territory. Neither the Red Star nor other newspapers mentioned any names and the warnings were tempered with disavowals of any intention of the Soviet Union to go to war unless war is "forced on it."

(Shanghai reports said foreign military observers in North China estimated Japan to be mobilizing 600,000 troops for a possible clash with Russia. Should Russia become embroiled in the Sino-Japanese conflict, they said, Japan would have its full strength ready in Korea and Manchoukuo, on the border of Soviet Siberia).

There was no announcement of the reported departure of Dimitri V. Bogomoloff, Russian Ambassador to China, on his way here from Nanking on a vital mission affecting the Soviet's position in the Sino-Japanese war.

ANNUAL MEETING NAMES OFFICERS

A very enthusiastic meeting of Ward Two Saanich Conservatives was held in the Cloverdale School-house Monday evening for the election of officers of the association and delegates to the central executive.

The following officers were elected: P. Mickleburgh, president; H. A. Roberts, vice-president; John F. Wain, secretary-treasurer; Meadames Toms and Moffatt, Miss Fletcher and A. R. Sherwood, J. H. Butters and Mr. Lingham, delegates.

The secretary was instructed to write a letter of sympathy to Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, M.P., in his illness and express the hope for his speedy recovery.

CONSERVATIVES NAME OFFICERS

Hubert Lethaby Re-elected Chairman of Ward Five Association Here

Value of publicity, press and radio, was stressed at the annual meeting of Ward Five Conservative Association, held last night in the Conservative rooms, Campbell Building, and it was decided to urge the central executive of the association to give the matter early attention.

The meeting was well attended, and following the general business and election of officers, there was an informal discussion of programmes for future monthly meetings of the Ward Association. Speakers would be secured to address the members and friends on matters of importance in the political life of the province and the Dominion.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Election of officers resulted in the selection of Hubert Lethaby as ward chairman for the 1937-1938 term. Mr. Lethaby asked to be relieved of his duties, but members were insistent he lead the association for another year. The choice was unanimous. F. J. Popham was elected vice-chairman, and Miss Alice White, secretary-treasurer. The following will represent the association on the central executive: Mrs. M. J. Roberts, Mrs. J. Granger, F. J. Popham and W. C. Warner. The appointment of election commissioners was left with a committee consisting of the chairman, secretary and four members on the central board. Appointments will be made within the next two or three weeks, the chairman stated.

Members heard a comprehensive report of the work of the association in the last twelve months from Mr. Lethaby. He said during the year the association held six regular meetings, with five guest speakers; the association had balanced its budget and expressed appreciation for assistance given by the central executive members. He paid tribute to the work of Miss Alice White, as secretary, and this was fully endorsed by the meeting. He also reviewed the recent provincial election.

UNITED DOMINION

In conclusion, he said: "I have found in the course of my daily travels, that the public is desirous of listening to anything of a constructive nature—they do not wish to be bothered with a lot of reactionary nonsense—and it is in this line of endeavor our success lies. We do not have to be ashamed to be allied with the Conservative Party, and I am sure that those who were privileged to listen to the address of the Hon. R. B. Bennett recently, must have felt a touch of pride that we were shoulder-to-shoulder with him and for what his views stand—a British Commonwealth solidarity. I am also confident that our Liberal friends have a sincere regard for our principles as well: for it is not true that we are one and all aiming for a prosperous Dominion of Canada and a well-contented nation?"

Officers for Coming Year Are Chosen by Junior Chamber Body

Ernest Harris Is Named President of Young Men's Local Organization—Presentation Made to Retiring Leader, Thomas E. Watkins

ERNEST H. Harris, popular young local business man, was last evening named president of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce at the annual meeting. Mr. Harris succeeds Thomas E. Watkins in the presidency.

Choice of the elections committee for vice-president was Conway Parrott. Captain Norman Foster was returned unanimously as secretary-treasurer, and the following were elected to serve a two-year term on the board of directors: J. Barracough, L. Osborne and G. M. Terry. Both Mr. Harris and Mr. Parrott will act on the directorate for a two-year period.

Those chosen to a one-year term on the board were: T. Bird, J. G. Hartree, H. Francis, W. W. Martin and T. Sturges. T. E. Watkins was named delegate to the senior chamber.

GLORIOUS TRIBUTE

Captain Foster paid a glowing tribute to the retiring president,

Mr. Watkins said, in presenting his report.

He referred particularly to the seventy-fifth anniversary committee parades, which were such an outstanding success, and the work of Tom Sturges, Tom Bird, Warren Martin, J. McAllister and Ernie Harris, who had played major roles in this undertaking.

MANY ACTIVITIES

The Port Angeles canoe race, the colorful city lighting, the work of the radio committee, under the chairmanship of Walter Miles; traffic enforcement, and the clean-up and paint-up campaign, were current activities mentioned in the report. A report was also made on the British Columbia and Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce conventions, and the visit of the public affairs group of the Vancouver Junior Board of Trade.

Pleasure at his associations with the junior chamber body was expressed by Captain Foster, in his report.

Mr. Harris said it was with a feeling of pride that he assumed the duty of president entrusted to him, and asked that the members give him the co-operation they had accorded his predecessor.

"The year which has elapsed since I took office as your president has been a most eventful one in the history of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce, and, one which has shown quite a considerable measure of accomplishment," report as secretary. Captain Foster assumed his duties last April. In concluding his report, the secretary stated that he hoped those who were appointed to committees would feel it an honor, and that they would give their best to any subject they might be called upon to deal with.

The treasurer's report, presented by Leslie F. Osborne, showed the financial condition of the body to

Chief of Police Urges Motorists To Aid Officers

CHIEF Thomas Heatley requests motorists to assist the police department by keeping off the route to be followed by President Roosevelt tomorrow afternoon on his journey to and from Government House. W. A. Thorn, director of the Dominion Meteorological Observatory, stated prospects of good weather for the Presidential visit were fairly favorable. Mayor Andrew McGavin made a request that top hats and dress clothes should not be worn by members of the welcoming party because of the informal nature of the President's visit. He is scheduled to land at Ogden Point docks at 12:30 o'clock.

be in a favorable condition. On Mr. Osborne's motion, Walter Miles, Frank Partridge and George Beck, three members who are retiring due to the fact of their being over the age limit prescribed in the constitution, were named honorary members for the coming year. Each replied suitably and spoke a few words of advice to the younger members.

CHANGE MEETING DATES

In future, meetings will be held on every second Monday, with a dinner meeting planned every two months. The next gathering of the organization will be a dinner meeting, at which each member will be asked to bring a prospective member. By this method the body hopes to increase its membership with active, interested young men.

The motion that a group photograph of all the past presidents at present in the city, be taken, was carried. A communication from the Tacoma Junior Chamber, inviting the members to a convention to be held on October 8, 9 and 10, was read.

New Rate to Be Charged Trucks By Municipality

Preliminary reading to By-Law 545, which amends the Revenue By-Law, 1922, was given at last evening's meeting of the Saanich Council.

The amendment makes it legal for the municipality to obtain from the owner or driver of every truck applying for hire, or used for the delivery of wood, coal or other merchandise or commodity, a sum not exceeding $20 every six months. Exceptions are allowed in the case where the owner of such a truck is paying the municipality a licence fee as a merchant. In such a case, the charge is reduced to $5 for every six months.

Saanich Curious Regarding Manner in Which City Charges for Water

Saanich will request further information regarding the manner in which the city of Victoria arrives at the proposed charge for water of $27c per 1,000 gallons, which the latter corporation has decided to charge the municipality.

The action follows receipt of a letter from G. M. Irwin, city engineer and water commissioner, read at last evening's meeting of the Saanich council, drawing attention to the increase in the rate and pointing out that the city comptroller and Mr. Irwin are ready to meet H. H. Allan, municipal engineer, and R. R. F. Sewell, municipal clerk, to discuss matters "as requested by you at a joint meeting held March 27, 1936."

In the letter which will go forward from Saanich, the fact will be stressed that the meeting was not held at the request of Saanich, but by mutual arrangement.

He asserted he would present figures to show existing rates, when compared with fire losses, were far too high.

ONTARIO'S ELECTION ISSUE

The election campaign in Ontario is warming up and Mr. Hepburn, seemingly, has been successful in making his position respecting the C.I.O. and his attitude towards labor generally the main issue. That at least is the opinion of The Ottawa Journal, which says that because of this the election has nothing to do with Liberal or Conservative philosophies. Ontario's Premier, at the time of the Oshawa labor trouble, said that he would not tolerate sit down strikes in the Province. Probably 90 per cent of the people supported him in this, but unfortunately he went farther and said that in the strike in question he was "100 per cent behind the company." As The Ottawa Journal points out, in a labor trouble a Government is not supposed to take sides. Its role, if it intervenes, is that of a referee. Mr. Hepburn, however, took sides and criticized the strikers as if they were potential-criminals. The Ottawa Journal says:

"It was all fast and melodrama. Mr. Hepburn could not deny labor the right to choose its own bargaining agency—tantamount to denying collective bargaining. He had no power to deal with the C.I.O. as long as it was peaceful. He had no power to stop C.I.O. organizers entering Canada. He knew he had no power. Yet Mr. Hepburn, knowing these things, went on making headlines, issuing provocative statements and communiques, recruiting troops, raising the bogey of Communism. (A few years before he had voted in Parliament to repeal Section 98.) Mr. Baldwin, in his last political will and testament, spoke of British freedom being built upon the policy of having 'force ever in the background, but never in the foreground.' Mr. Hepburn put force in the foreground. In all of his moods and words and actions, many of them ludicrous, his was the Fascist touch. It was a touch calculated to produce nothing but industrial bitterness. There is evidence to show that it delayed the strike's settlement."

Because of Mr. Hepburn's stand, the present election in Ontario has raised an issue which is himself, one to determine if he is a safe man for Ontario. The Ottawa Journal, and perhaps all well-balanced public opinion, would like to see discussion in the present campaign on such matters as the problems of taxation, the administration of hydro, the Budget, or what should be done about roads or the tourist industry. The Journal points out that the true end of government is to keep the peace among the citizens, to make for trust and good faith among all classes in the community and to secure stability. Mr. Hepburn, it says, has done none of these things. He has worked against them. Here is its summary of his achievements: "He raised, for the first time in Ontario, the black flag of repudiation. He preached class hatred while raising it. He stirred up strife at successive Dominion-Provincial conferences, demanding inflation. He introduced patronage on an unheard-of scale in the civil service of the Province. He was the predecessor of Aberhart in his flouting of courts. He took the administration of liquor laws from the department of the Attorney-General and made it an agency of party patronage under his own personal direction. He put the school question into party politics; raised up bitterness and suspicion between separate school supporters and public; between Catholics and Protestants. Finally, and to cap his record, he has created, or promoted, strife between capital and labor."

The Journal also finds that under the present administration in Ontario, the Legislature has fallen to the lowest estate of dignity it has known in years and that the amenities of public life have been degraded. There has been government by whim, by moods and tantrums, and often by violence. "This," says The Journal, "is not democratic government, or responsible government. It is something alien to British ideas; alien to British traditions; alien to the spirit of democracy. It is not what Ontario wants. Ontario wants to be governed in the British way, in the decent way, with fairness and dignity, and without vulgarity. It wants to be governed by a man who can be depended upon from day to day; who will not betray it into reckless adventures. It wants to be governed, in short, by a man it can trust; by a man who has character."

CENSORING THE PRESS

A Bill to "control" the Press has been introduced in the Alberta Legislature. It is designed to compel newspapers to publish accurate information, and the Government is to decree what is accurate. If the legislation can be enforced, it will "compel" newspapers to name the authority or source of their information for all stories printed. The Government is to decree what is true, and wherever it considers a story is incorrect it will demand and compel a newspaper to use any amount of space in any part of the paper for the publication of a statement "clarifying" or "correcting" what has appeared. Apparently the Government itself will engage in the task of publication, for it will prepare statements and "compel" their insertion in newspapers where it comes to the conclusion that "false" statements have been made.

This is an incursion upon the liberty of the Press which has not hitherto been attempted in Canada. The Government (that is, politicians) is to decree what is false and what is true. Judging from statements made by those politicians on the hustings, they would be about the last people to set up as an authority on accuracy in either the written or the spoken word. Moreover, as at present constituted, Governments have not the facilities for covering the field of human endeavor and, save where their own activities are concerned, they cannot determine the accuracy of news stories. The legislation, however, is on all fours with that emanating from Alberta in the last two years. It is not only fantastic, but a definite effort to impose a censorship on the Press, though it is denied that any censorship is intended. It is, too, a most serious reflection upon the Press of Alberta and an act of spleen because that Press has not supported Premier Aberhart and his Social Credit fantasies. It is small minds that resent criticism and think that they should be allowed to become a law unto themselves.

Alberta has engaged in much wayward legislation under its Social Credit regime, and now it is busy in laying the coping stone on its temple of folly. It has defied constitutional authority, it has attempted to close the courts to redress for the civil rights of the people, and now it is seeking to muzzle the Press. The saving grace of the latest piece of legislation is that it is another nail in the coffin of Aberhartian policies. There is still predominant in the thoughts of all freedom-loving peoples in British lands the monition of Junius: "Let it be impressed upon your minds, let it be instilled into your children, that the liberty of the Press is the palladium of all the civil, political and religious rights of an Englishman; and that the right of juries to return a general verdict, in all cases whatsoever, is an essential part of our constitution, not to be controlled or limited by the judges, nor, in any shape, questioned by the legislature." The whole question of civil liberty is bound up with the freedom of the Press.

LOSS OF BACKBONE

So long as people believe that governments should do for them what they can do for themselves, they will never be masters of their destiny. It is, says The New York Tribune, "one of the strangest quirks of the human mind that the idea of authority has been combined with the concept of wisdom." There is the myth, too, that a strong government is necessarily a wise government. The Tribune says that this confusion of wisdom with strength "has exercised a subtle fascination over millions of radicals in all countries." There is, in these latter days, a veritable passion for governmental interference and intermeddling by means of regulation. The fact of the matter is, of course, that politicians are no wiser than other men; they are elected to office by the passions or predilections of the multitude; very often more on the basis of their popularity or their party proclivities than because of their ability or fitness in any other way.

There is a spell of weak-mindedness cast over a generation that believes governmental action holds the panacea for all ills. It is a doctrine of dependence that is the negation of initiative and enterprise. It saps human energy; it is an invitation to the curtailment of the liberty of the subject, to the abrogation of his civil rights. Less and less under the regime of paternalism will men be up and doing for themselves. More and more will they rest on their oars and let governments do what is an inherent right of self-respect. The phenomenon of the age is loss of backbone among humanity in the mass.

Commenting on the Alberta situation, The London News-Chronicle says: "It is a very great pity that the first experiment in Social Credit should end like this, in a maze of legal controversy littered with broken promises. It would have been very much better if Social Credit could have been tried out by a Prime Minister who knew what he was doing, and in a country which had the legal power to put the policy into effect. Failure under these circumstances would have been final. As it is, the adherents of this curious religion can still argue that it has not failed because it has never been tried."

TWILIGHT

Twilight it is, and the far woods are dim, and the rooks cry and call.
Down in the valley the lamps, and the mist, and a star over all;
There by the river, where they thresh, is the drone at an end;
Twilight it is, and I travel the road with my friend.
I think of the friends who are dead, who were dear long ago in the past,
Beautiful friends who are dead, though I know that death cannot last;
Friends with the beautiful eyes that the dust has defiled,
Beautiful souls who were gentle when I was a child.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

Alberta, it seems, is setting out to control the Press, in the cause of accuracy and truth. When you remember that the Press is merely a reflection of the community around you, you will see that the Prairie Province has a job of work on its hands. Moreover, the law of libel, to which some distinct references are made in the criminal code, is to be suspended, when the Province says so. The Province, in fact, is to acquire space in any Alberta newspaper just by demanding it, for the publication of its truthful and accurate accounts of the doings of that Government. Yet further, these accounts are to be held open to any private citizen who feels he or she may be aggrieved (beyond the remedy of the present libel law). The Press, however, has devoted a good many years to the cultivation of accuracy and truth; realizing that no paper could long exist without a reputation for the former; and that truth is a relative, but necessary, charm, differing from whatever standpoint it be approached. By all means let us assist the cause of accuracy and truth in our daily newspapers; but I suspect that it will be quite beyond the capacities of any government to bring about perfection in that regard. Governments, in sober fact, cannot agree even with their Oppositions on what should be the accurate and truthful figures of a single budget. Now that Alberta is considering going into the publishing business, it may be quite in order for the Press to start out on political rostrums and promise dividends of $25 monthly to their subscribers, with the guarantee of the Provincial Treasury, of course.

Believe it, or set it down to professional jealousy if you please, but I have known city editors who have had nervous breakdowns because reporters left out second initials in men's names. I have seen a whole editorial office on its feet at one time, hunting for a record of the exact year in which a district fair once introduced a class in livestock judging. I have seen reporters lose their jobs because they wandered a hairbreadth from the strict path of accuracy and truth. I have seen Liberal papers laying over backwards to play fair with a visiting Conservative statesman. I have seen Conservative papers hold up a page in type waiting for an unbiased account of a Communist meeting. I have heard C.C.F. candidates compliment the so-called capitalist press on the accuracy, fairness and impartiality of their accounts of C.C.F. platform speeches. It sticks in my mind that Social Credit candidates were given precisely the same treatment at election time as were the candidates of all other parties. Honestly, if you knew the pains that most newspapers go to in preventing as much as a comma being out of place, you would wonder at any attack on the Press in Canada on the grounds of disregard of accuracy and truth. The real test is the libel law itself. It has been in existence for countless years, with all the courts of the land to back it up, and I doubt if it is invoked twice a year in any part of Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific. If the Press, indeed, accepted the statements of some politicians blindly, it could be sued for libel every second day in the week. One will watch with great interest the Alberta attempt to set up a Ministry as the sole arbiter of the truth.

Have you ever heard the caution: "When in doubt, leave it out." That is the first thing a cub reporter cuts his teeth on. It means that if he does not have clear authority for every detail of his story he must get that authority or leave out the detail concerned entirely. If you applied the same test to, say, luncheon club speakers, how much of their addresses would be left? Particularly in dealing with a government is the Press careful, watchful of accuracy and of truth. Most journalists say baldly that such and such a statement is made by the Honorable the Minister of this or that; or, contrariwise, that the honorable gentleman declined to say anything, and that what follows is the newspaper's own belief of the facts. Pick up a copy of your paper today, for example. Turn to the first story you see. You will find the authority for that statement right in the story, or else it is not a well-edited paper. If there is no authority, and the question is one of surmise, that will be said straight out also. In the course of my business I have to read dozens of newspapers each week. They come from all parts of the Province and from quite a few towns and cities elsewhere in Canada. I have not found that rule broken once in ten thousand times. It is easy for a demagogue to rail against the Press, and to find certain disgruntled elements on his side in so doing; but the facts throughout Canada are all on the other side. A demagogue can deal in assertions and unsubstantiated charges; the Press must deal with facts, with accuracy and the truth, in short; else it will have thousands of subscribers down on its neck before twenty-four hours have passed. Try it, sometime. It is a delightful hobby, this pursuit of absolute accuracy and relative truth in legislative corridors. To the Press, of course, it has always remained a stern chase.

Easy Come, Easy Go
When a newspaperman is feeling "spendy" he really goes the limit—beyond a doubt. Two of the boys, one long and one short—for purposes of differentiation—were in the habit of indulging in tea and toast nightly at the hour of twelve. The night before the short one left the thrills and romances of the fourth estate, to return to college he generously announced that that evening they would both have a meal on him. This sounded like the real McCoy to the long one, who enjoys a not too "meagre" appetite. Sauntering up to the counter the lads sat down. "Two orders of tea and toast," remarked Shorty, from force of habit. "Oh, no I forgot; we're going to have a real feast tonight," he suddenly corrected himself, to the relief of the long one. "Bring me a dish of marmalade, and some jam for my pal."—W.I.P.

Common Danger

Car drivers in this city are somewhat in doubt as to what constitutes driving to the common danger. According to the Motor Vehicle Act, "any person driving or operating a motor vehicle within any city, town or village at a greater speed than twenty miles an hour, or upon any highway not within a city, town or village, at a greater speed than thirty miles an hour, shall prima facie be deemed to be driving or operating their vehicle in other than a careful or prudent manner." Elsewhere the Motor Vehicle Act says there are no limits except where indicated by signs, and further excepts speed limits from matters which municipalities may regulate. Some drivers therefore, want to know if they break the law by driving twenty-five miles an hour in a town, or thirty-five on the highway, if there are no signs to indicate the speed at which they may go.—B.G.

Confusion and crush at searching customs examination on dock at landing. Narrow exits—continual loud blasts of motor horns—street cars badly in need of paint—hills and more hills—fruit, sugar, canned goods, furniture and radio sets unbelievably cheap—first-class milk only ten cents per quart—bacon and meat very expensive—water under high pressure. Baths a real treat—free matches with cigarettes—carelessly dressed policemen lounging on corners—bread, cake and pastry poor quality and expensive—progress, optimism and business on every side—tax token nuisance, disliked by all—clever advertising—shop windows and store fronts strikingly original—smooth concrete highways—buses traveling at sixty miles per hour in perfect safety—brilliant illumination of business district—second-hand automobiles for a song—uncensored motion pictures. Glancing Over Sport

It appears now that there is a very definite "split" between the Victoria Dominions and the City Basketball League, following that stormy meeting the other night at the Y.M.C.A. The Dominions are going on their own "hook" this season, as when entries were filed at the meeting their name was not registered, with officials. What will be the outcome is a question basketball fans in the city are asking themselves. It means that the league has twenty-one teams and no place to run off their schedule, as the Dominions have the High School gymnasium for the season. There's only one solution to that problem, and that's for the league to play preliminary games to the Dominions' attractions on Saturday evenings. There is no question about it but the Dominions, formerly the Blue Ribbons, have carried the league financially for the past five years. The league couldn't exist with this team not playing. In other words, there would be no basketball in this city if it wasn't for the Dominions, for they have carried the

(From The Daily Colonist of September 28, 1887)

Island Mountain Mine—P. O. Dunlevy arrived from Soda Creek last night on the steamer Yosemite. The latest news received from Island Mountain mine is of an encouraging character. The vein was traced 200 feet below the first tunnel and run in on a fine character of ore of considerable width. Work on the mill buildings is getting along well. The mill is about closed in and a portion of the machinery is in position. The boiler house is up and the boilers bricked in. The brick for furnaces did not turn out as well as expected, being too soft. The development of the mine is proceeding, and it is expected that crushing will soon commence.

Principal Registrar J. N. Muir, principal of the High School, yesterday sent in his resignation to Secretary Walter of the School Board to go into effect on October 21. At the next meeting of the board it is thought the resignation will be accepted.

New Brick Building—A. Gilmore is about to erect a two-story brick building on Yates Street, opposite the American Hotel. The tenders have already been let and Mr. Shirley, the contractor, commenced operations last evening, and the building will be completed before the new year.

A QUESTION OF EFFRONTERY

Sir.—When the Social Credit Association of Liverpool indignantly demanded that Premier Mackenzie King cease preventing the Alberta Government from carrying out the pledges on which it was elected, The Colonist went into a genteel emotional tangle and called this act of the Liverpool Social Crediters "an act of effrontery." But I have failed to observe any indignation from The Colonist over The London Times' act of effrontery in connection with the same matter. The Times wrote portentously "The Dominion must disallow the acts of Alberta."

Well, where does The Colonist stand? Is it effrontery for the Liverpool Social Credit Association to give advice to Mr. King but not effrontery for The London Times to do the same thing?

SOCIAL CREDIT

Sir.—In your editorial of the 23rd inst., dealing with the Australian report on Social Credit, you state this report says: "There is no permanent tendency towards a shortage of purchasing power." If such is the case, I should like to ask the commissioners to state why we have in the world today millions of workers, willing and able to work, who can find no employment; many factories working half time and many labor-saving inventions being held back from use? While on the other hand we have millions of people waiting for even the necessities of life, yet unable to buy them for lack of purchasing power.

Social Credit has diagnosed the disease and has prescribed the cure—a cure which, in spite of the Australian Commissioners, whom I believe, were financial experts and so part of our present financial system, many millions of sane ordinary people are sure will work if given a fair trial. The commissioners neither diagnose the disease nor prescribe a cure. They merely condemn the cure prescribed by the other doctor.

Who are the best doctors, then? Social Crediters or the Australian Commissioners? A. S. AVERILL.

A CORRECTION

Sir.—In my letter, which you published today, I find two errors in the Bible references given, viz.: Fourth line of the fourth paragraph, Romans 6:5 should read Romans 16:5.
Last line, but one of the fifth paragraph, Ezekiel 7:16 should read Ezekiel 8:16. These are doubtless due to printer's errors, and I would ask you, therefore, to publish these corrections.
(I do not agree with your printer's spelling of the words "worshippers" and "worshiped," in both of which he inserts two "p"s and which I spell with one.)

A UNITED CANADA

Sir.—It is indeed unfortunate that letters of an intolerant nature should be permitted to stir up religious or racial controversy in the columns of a newspaper, but it becomes necessary in the interests of justice to correct the false impressions created by such letters as that of Mr. F. Donohue in Sunday's issue under the above heading.
When Mr. Donohue attacks the Orangemen of Canada for their stand, "one flag, one school, one language—a united Canada," and accuses them of dishonoring agreements by this stand, he should at least be certain as to what these agreements are.

In Canada, under the terms of the B.N.A. Act, there is but one official language—the English, with the exception that in the Province of Quebec, the Dominion Houses of Parliament and the Supreme Court of Canada, either or both English and French may be used (Section 133, B.N.A. Act). The French language, therefore, has no official standing whatever in eight of the nine provinces of Canada. It is true, however, that racial desires of the French-Canadians have forced the French language on to most Dominion Government publications including postage stamps and currency notes.

The same applies to radio programmes from the C.B.C., where it has become a positive nuisance to fully 90 per cent of the people outside Quebec to have programmes with lengthy discourses in French forced upon them unless they turn to American stations.
The Orange Association has never yet advocated the breaking of the terms of Confederation by abolishing the official use of French in Quebec. It does, however, protest the extension of the official use of this language outside Quebec. Who are the bigots in this instance? Surely not those who ask the minority to honor its agreement. Canada is not bi-lingual; the province of Quebec is!

Likewise can anyone who has given any thought to the separate school systems endorse them as the best for a united Canada? In Quebec the public school is the Roman Catholic school, and if Protestants do not like it they have the alternative of financing a Protestant school which is impossible in small communities. In Ontario the public school is non-denominational and still the Roman Catholics have the privilege of applying their school taxes to the support of Roman Catholic separate schools. The Orange Association believes in one public non-denominational school. Again who is the bigot?

This term, "bigot," is always applied to Orangemen by the "militant minority" to divert public opinion when the latter seek some special privileges.

SAANICH AND WATER SUPPLY

Sir.—In reference to a report as to investigation of the possibilities of supplying Saanich residents with water from a deep well system which appeared in The Victoria Times of September 23, I wish to make the following statement:

The first portion of the report is entirely accurate, but in the latter portion this statement appears: "The plan as proposed in its preliminary stages would call for the building of reservoirs, or the use of natural ones where possible, at vantage points in the thickly-populated areas. These would be fed by a series of short lines from adjacent wells, automatic electric pumps supplying the power, including, as it would seem to indicate that in the thickly-settled portion of the municipality that it was the intention to dig a series of small surface wells. It is quite obvious that this would be entirely out of the question."

No scheme has been decided upon, but our preliminary investigation has led the water committee to believe that it is entirely feasible to install a deep-well system similar to those in use in many cities and towns in the states of Washington and Oregon.

I wish to point out that all waterworks matters in regard to supply are under control of the Public Health Department of the Province. I wish to reiterate that the investigation now being made is preliminary only. Nothing definite has been decided upon, nor can be until a full report is submitted to the Saanich Council. When the report is examined by the council full information can then be given to the ratepayers of Saanich.

Veterans' Assistance Board Gets Jobs for Many Ex-Service Men

Total of 7,725 Placements Made by Federal Commission Since Operations Began Last April—Other Aids Also Are Given

OTTAWA, Sept. 28 (P).—A total of 7,725 jobs of a permanent, temporary, or casual nature, have been found for Canadian ex-service men since the war veterans assistance commission began active employment-finding operations last April, according to a statement by Commission Chairman J. G. Ratray here today.

In addition to these, the commission has, through authority vested in it, enabled many others to find work by defraying their transportation to jobs and purchasing tools and equipment for them on a repayment plan.

SECURE POSITIONS

Probational training, embarked upon last May, has resulted in 328 applicants being reconditioned into trades to which they had been accustomed, and in which they had needed "brushing up." A large percentage of the trainees have now secured permanent positions.

Gratification was voiced by Colonel Ratray today at the success of the probational training system. One veteran wrote that, at the conclusion of his training period, his employer had taken him into partnership. Another advised his earning power had risen from $18 a week to $42, his current wage in a permanent job.

Employers' letters speak highly of the calibre of the men they have helped to recondition and express tribute to their loyalty and efficiency.

The probational training plan was begun last May, the Government setting aside $250,000 for reconditioning men into industrial work. The training period was set at three months, the Government paying one-half of the man's wages, up to $50 a month. Employers were permitted to train only those men who were likely to secure permanent jobs at the close of their probational period.

Honorary local committees, appointed in most of the large cities, operated through the Employment Service of Canada and local employers. The applicant had to be registered with either the Employment Service or the War Veterans Assistance Commission before he was eligible. The system was restricted only to men who had served in a theatre of actual war.

With regard to the purchase of tools and equipment, the commission was authorized to buy these for men who had been guaranteed jobs. The sum of $50 could be spent, divided between the purchase ($40) and transportation to the job ($10). By agreement, the expenditure is refunded to the commission out of the man's wages.

"Poor old sailor?" she echoed.

"Yes, mum," replied the tramp. "Nigh on forty years I followed the water."

"Well," replied the woman, as she slammed the door in his face, "it's a pity you didn't overtake it!"

praising the merits of the various entries. By early in the afternoon the main hall presented an attractive picture, the long tables against the wall and spanning the length of the building offering a magnificent spread of fresh color supplied by fruits, vegetables, flowers, bottled preserves and other products of the district. The judges in front of this class at Saanich.

Field roots are another excellent class, many being conspicuously the best exhibits in this section.

There is a good local market for mangos, so farmers find it pays to grow them and to grow good ones.

B. Young, Koksalah, was awarded the association's blue ribbon for the best twenty-five-pound box of "apudis" in the show. There was strong competition here.

Farmers will be interested in the sample of beet seed grown in the district, on the farm of W. D. Mitchell, for the Sunset Seed Company, Keating. This, too, is one of the new industries of the district. The seed is shown on the beet-stalk itself.

During the past year half a dozen or more new silos have been erected in the peninsula. These are an index of progressiveness, both in the feeding of stock and in the amount of acreage put under fodder products. Corn is one of the heavy fodder crops of the district this year, and some stalwart specimens are propped against the north wall; also sunflowers. Grains, grasses and hay make a good entry.

One or two of the biggest Jersey breeders of the district are deliberately staying out of the show in order to give the smaller men a chance. George Chailoner, Chilliwack, B.C. Electrical Railway agricultural representative, will judge the cattle entries, including not only the numerous Jersey exhibits, but the Holstein section, which will have nine animals from the one exhibitor, Ralph Randall.

BOYS AND GIRLS

Apologies of cattle: One of the finest things Saanich Fair Association has done has been to encourage boys and girls to farm. And one of the most important steps in this direction has been the encouragement given the Jersey Calf Club, which is growing in strength every year. Ten young people are showing their own exceptionally fine. The adjective is advisedly used. Lionel E. Taylor, West Saanich, had a pleasant task judging, and informed the committee he had seldom seen better exhibits. The boxed apples were particularly good, twelve boxes being entered by as many exhibitors, and all of tip-top quality. Kings are the biggest and best entry, with nineteen entries. In the class for "collection of apples" there are five big places filled with the most tempting specimens.

COMING INDUSTRY

An up-and-coming industry of the district is grape culture. There were three times as many entries in the grape class this year as last, and all very fine, indicating that Saanich is going to make a bid not only for the business of supplying table grapes locally, but also of supplying the wineries.

A new cup in the fruit section of the fair this year is the George Stewart Cup, offered for best miscellaneous collection of Saanich-grown fruits. The two well-arranged collections competing for this award are an attractive feature of the main floor.

VEGETABLES

It is a pity if the district cannot produce some Cinderella, as a monster sixty-pound pumpkin, bursting with importance behind its bright orange rind, adorns the centre of one of the tables. The vegetable section contains many other exhibits that will hold the interest of visitors attracted by this kind of produce. Tomatoes are one of the most outstanding classes, with twenty-three entries of outdoor-grown specimens that are as fair to look upon as anything that grows under glass. This, Saanich folk maintain, is one of their best achievements of the equable climate of the district.

The four vegetable collections competing for the J. W. Tolmie Cup are representative of the usual type of attractively-arranged exhibits found in this class at Saanich.

Field roots are another excellent class, many being conspicuously the best exhibits in this section.

BOYS AND GIRLS

Apologies of cattle: One of the finest things Saanich Fair Association has done has been to encourage boys and girls to farm. And one of the most important steps in this direction has been the encouragement given the Jersey Calf Club, which is growing in strength every year. Ten young people are showing their own

Jersey calves this year. The condition of membership is that the boys and girls must rear and tend their own calves, and to help them the Government sends out instructors at intervals during the winter to give lectures and demonstrations in feeding, care and show-points.

There are sixteen entries in the purebred Jersey heifer (under one year) class today.

There are other classes for boys and girls, however. Class 227, for instance, is for boys' and girls' vegetable collections. These show good selective sense and are also decorative parts of the whole exhibit.

There is, too, a sixteen-years and under class in cookery, and it shows good spirit in the boys as well as an all-round useful degree of domesticity where bachelorhood may be their unhappy fate, that several boys as well as girls have entered cakes. Boy Scouts will do "policing" of the sports today, as well as in the exhibition hall.

WOMEN'S WORK

Women's work is evolving along new lines. Replacing some of the old lines of needlework that should have been lifted from exhibitions years ago as effete and out of date, are some of the more useful branches such as knitting. Many of the women of Saanich knit magnificently, judging by the entries in this class.

As cooks the women of the district are famous. The bread, cake, etc., classes, consequently, are riotously represented, with forty-one loaves, thirty-nine cakes, twenty-five pies, eleven biscuit entries after the Blue Ribbon baking-powder prizes, and ten for the Magic-baking-powder prize.

Victoria fair might take some tips from Saanich for the freshness of their flowers. Although the fair is three weeks later than last year's, the floral entry is wonderful. Michaelmas daisies, asters and dahlias heading the list. George Robinson, Elk Lake, is the judge, and this section is conveyed by A. N. Primeau, assisted by Mrs. G. W. Malcolm.

A gay spot is the non-competitive giadoli display sent in by George Wardle, Bannan Bay. Six decorated tea tables in the balcony also show some of the pretty flowers of the district.

THE SCHOOL WORK

The school work will also be found in the balcony. Flour-and-salt maps are especially good, the judge reported. Photography, too, is in the balcony, among the pictures being an exhibit from Scotland sent from there by a former convener of this section at the Saanich Fair.

The Indian department has an enthusiastic and helpful inspiration in Rev. Father Scheel, who has been one of the pioneers of the district, and Miss Lovick, one of the school teachers. Some beautiful knitted articles, including the much-admired heavy Indian sweaters and socks from Island-spun yarns, and beautiful-looking oven-products are seen in this well-organized section.

BISHOP IS DUE HERE SATURDAY

Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton to Preach Twice Sunday in Christ Church

Sunday next will be kept by Christ Church Cathedral as a day of thanksgiving for that harvest of human effort of which flowers and fruit, grain and vegetables are the outward and visible symbols, one far greater, than that of the fields, gardens and sea, and whose blessings therefore call for a great offering of praise and thanksgiving.

There will be celebrations of the Holy Communion at 8 a.m. and at 11 a.m., and the preacher at 11 and again at 7:30 p.m. will be the bishop of the diocese, Right Rev. H. E. Sexton, D.D., who is due to return to the city on Saturday after an absence of four months in the Old Land.

The recent departure of Dean Quinton, the last of a famous trio to whom so much is due the success of the campaign for the erection of the nave of the new cathedral, and whose associates were the late Bishop Schofield and Rev. E. P. Laycock, marks the close of an important chapter in the history of the parish. It is interesting to note that the eighth anniversary of the consecration of the new building is being observed today, the Feast of St. Michael and All Angels.

Considerable interest is being shown in the return of Bishop Sexton at such a time, in view of the likelihood of important announcements being made in the not-distant future.

The services this year carry a special appeal in that the fruit and flowers sent in to the cathedral as harvest decorations, and which may be left there any day this week, will be added to the store of such, with canned goods, which is being assembled at the Memorial Hall in order to help make up the car of such supplies destined for the drought areas of the Prairie, and which is to leave Victoria early next week.

Next Monday a welcome home

PRaises Work OF ROTARIANS

Percy B. Scurrah Makes Appeal for Activity in International Field

Men of today have a greater sense of responsibility towards their fellow-men than ever before, Rotarian Percy B. Scurrah told members of the Kiwanis Club at their luncheon at the Empress Hotel yesterday. Mr. Scurrah, a director of Rotary International, and representative for Canada and Newfoundland at the International Convention in Nice, France, and the International Assembly in Switzerland, voiced an appeal for increased service club activity in the international field.

Taking Rotary as an outstanding example of the growth of service clubs in community life in the past twenty-five or thirty years, the speaker claimed that Rotary had a greater influence than many realized. Once asked where Rotary was going, Bernard Shaw had replied that Rotary was going to lunch; but it was going much farther than that, Mr. Scurrah said.

TO BE OF SERVICE

During the past three decades there had been created in man a desire not only to be of service to his fellows, but also to create better, healthier, happier communities. The education men and women had received through service club conferences and conventions had had a very beneficial effect, and had made the people more community-minded than ever in the past. Proof of the influence of service clubs could be found in the personnel of the boards of hospitals, schools and charitable and other organizations, of which the majority were almost all members of service clubs.

Touching upon the international side of Rotary, which, he said, had made it possible for the movement to function at all, the speaker expressed a hope that the day would soon come when the Kiwanis would decide to enter the foreign field. By various means, Rotary was breaking down the international misunderstandings and hatreds that had existed for so long, he asserted. From his own experiences in France, Germany, Holland, Italy and Switzerland, he had come to the conclusion that there was a tremendous opportunity, not only for Rotary, but also for kindred clubs, to make a definite contribution to international understanding and good-will.

President Leo Sweeney, of the Vancouver Kiwanis, was among the luncheon guests.

DOCTORS CHECK KIDNEYS FIRST

Because they know that healthy kidneys remove from the blood the waste matter—the excess acids and poisons, formed by the ever-changing human body as it decays and rebuilds itself. But if the kidneys fail, illness surely follows. Backache, Rheumatism, Injured Blood, Lack of Energy, Too Frequent Urination, Sleeplessness, Headaches—all may result from faulty kidneys. As a health safeguard—as a wise precaution—regulate your kidneys frequently with Dodd's Kidney Pills—for over fifty years the favorite kidney remedy—non-habit forming—safe.

Jane Dixon Says:

A WOMAN WHO BELIEVES ROMANCE BEGINS AT FORTY WANTS TO KNOW WHETHER SHE AND HER HUSBAND SHOULD CONTINUE LIVING AS THEY ARE OR BEGIN TO PHILANDER

Some very strange birds fly in through my study window. What does one do with a bird like this?

Dear Miss Dixon.—The statement that "Life begins at forty is a 'wham'." Now that I am in my forty-teens, I find that I have an inclination to philander, and just what worries me is this: I love my husband and I know he loves me. He has been faithful to our marriage vows and so have I.

Now that I have the philandering urge, what can I do about it? Perhaps my husband has the same urge.

Would it be best for us to go on living as we do, or philander a bit?

Please advise me through your column.—"A Worried Spouse."

Answer.—The first thing you should do is to consult a psychiatrist. You have a complex on the word "philander."

You have the word in the breeze as though it were a gay flag, a merry boast. On the contrary, it is a mean and despicable word, implying instability of character, lightness of mind, disloyalty of heart.

A philanderer is a person who has become a parasite, one who makes mockery of sacred institutions and of sacred vows.

Philanderers are correctly estimated as being thoroughly untrustworthy, unmanly and cheap.

What you need to do, Forty-odd, is to make a re-estimation of your values. That lightness in your heart has gone to your head. You do not love your husband.

LEAVE LOVE OUT OF IT

A wife who loves her husband never considers going around with other men. Cheaper yourself if you will, but leave love out of it. Honest wives who do love their husbands revere the word and they properly resent your tossing it about as though it were a colored balloon.

A loving wife, if she wonders about her husband's abiding interest in her, takes steps to revive that interest. She does not use her doubt as a welcome excuse for her own amorous desire.

At forty-plus, a woman who loves her husband is loved by him, and has the record of a clean married life behind her, should have enough gratitude and enough plain common sense to concentrate every effort on preserving the peace, the happiness and the sanctity of her home, instead of kicking up her heels and thinking up ways to destroy it.

You ask: "Would it be better for us to go on living as we do or philander a bit?"

What a question!

SHOULD DISSOLVE MARRIAGE FIRST.

Married women do not cheat in bits. The men with whom they play never expect them to be bit-cheaters. When they try it, they are sure to find themselves in some very ugly situations.

If you are tired of your home and of your husband, close out your home, dissolve your marriage, then take up butterflying. It's safer that way, and so much less painful and shameful. But let me warn you that a forty-odd-year-old butterfly is a pretty ridiculous sight and, for the most part, a dud on romantic playgrounds.

Maybe you had better see your physician, too. You appear to be out of gear physically as well as mentally.

If you must have emotional thrills, if you have an irresistible urge to begin life over again after forty—why not try whipping up a new romance with your husband.

Lead him out of the rut the two of you are traveling. Go new places. Make yourself attractive as possible. Be gay, eager, full of frolic. Awaken him to the fact that, even in middle-age, married romance may put out a new bud and flower gloriously.

Digestive Upsets

The Result of Nervous Tension

Since the nerves control all bodily functions, Any weakness of the nervous system is soon reflected in physical disorders. It is common knowledge That worry and irritability cause indigestion, But modern science also attributes Stomach ulcers and ulcerative colitis to the same cause.

The worry and anxiety of recent years Have enormously increased nervous disorders, As well as constipation, stomach ulcers and colitis. Why not learn to relax And thereby live more happily as well as longer.

By restoring vigor to the nervous system, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food can be of great benefit to you.

It is generally acknowledged by thousands of people To be a most effective means of relieving Nervous indigestion, sleeplessness and other disorders of the nerves.

RECALL RULES BEFORE HOUSE

Alberta Legislature Rejects Resolution for Formation of Provincial Bank

EDMONTON, Sept. 28 (P).—Rejecting four other motions on recorded votes, the Alberta Legislature today adjourned debate on a motion and amendment affecting recall of sitting members.

The Legislature defeated, 42 to 13, a motion urging $500,000 be raised as a deposit to obtain a provincial bank charter. It was sponsored by Charles Cockroft, former Provincial Treasurer. Another motion by Mr. Cockroft to make payments to necessitous holders of matured bonds was defeated by the same vote.

By a vote of 41 to 13, the Legislature defeated a motion by A. L. Blue (S.C., Ribstone) to have G. P. Powell, Government Social Credit expert, appear before the agriculture committee to report on progress made towards establishment of Social Credit. It also defeated, 45 to 8, a motion by J. J. Bowlin, Liberal House leader, seeking copies of letters and cables exchanged since June 1 last between the Government and its advisers.

DEBATE IS DELAYED

Discussions on the resolutions and second reading of three bills occupied the time of the House, and adjournment was made until tomorrow before Hon. Lucien Maynard, Minister of Municipal Affairs, could reopen debate on his resolution denying Federal right of disallowance of provincial legislation and expressing intention to implement three disallowed acts.

Mr. Cockroft proposed the number of signatures necessary for recall of a sitting member should be reduced from 62-3 per cent of the electorate in the constituency to 10 per cent. He claimed the act as at present was too high and made the act "unfair and unworkable."

Fred Anderson (S.C., Calgary) moved an amendment to make the number of signatures necessary 62-3 per cent of those who voted in the last election and not 62-3 per cent of the present electorate.

DRUNKEN CREW BEATS CAPTAIN

Pilot Reports Trouble on Steamer American Pioneer At Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28 (P).—The pilot of the American Pioneer freighter reported to the Harbor Department tonight that drunken crew members had beaten the captain, rammed a dock and narrowly missed striking a rock jetty and colliding with the steamer Avalon.

Captain Thomas F. Evans, badly beaten, was taken ashore by agents of the line after the ship anchored two miles off the harbor. He was treated by physicians.

Pilot Alfred Jorgensen told harbor officials that almost half the entire crew of thirty-eight men was drunk when he started to take the ship out for New York. The 11,000-ton vessel arrived early today from Hongkong and took up bunkers.

Jorgensen said the seamen insisted on moving at high speed within the harbor.

He said he had difficulty getting the freighter off a path that would have sent it into the side of the Avalon, inbound with passengers from Santa Catalina Island.

The freighter was moving so fast, Jorgensen reported to harbor authorities, he was unable to get into his pilot boat until near the anchorage limit.

VANCOUVER CASE CONSIDERED HERE

Court of Appeal Reserves Judgment After Hearing Counsel in Servello-Degeorgio Trial

The Court of Appeal yesterday reserved judgment in Rex vs. Servello and Degeorgio.

Johnny Degeorgio and Nick Servello were charged with receiving in connection with a theft of tobacco from MacDonald Consolidated, Ltd., at Fernie. They were acquitted by County Court Judge George H. Thompson, at Fernie. The alleged offence took place on June 9, 1936.

The Crown later preferred a charge of breaking and entering and the pair again was acquitted by Judge Thompson on the grounds that the charge was made on the same set of facts as preferred in the previous charge.

The Crown appealed the second acquittal.

J. R. Nicholson, for defence, contended that the accused elected speedy trial in the first instance and that the Crown had an opportunity then to try as many charges as it wished.

Eric Pepler, deputy attorney-general, for the Crown, submitted that the men were tried on the one charge of receiving they never were in jeopardy on other charges and the Crown could at any time proceed on any other charge.

MISSIONARIES TEST THE LAW

Immediate Result of Eating Goose Eggs Is Ten-Dollar Fine

HALIFAX, Sept. 28 (P).—At Pond Inlet, on the top of Baffin Island, inside the Arctic Circle, two Anglican missionaries await what cognizance, if any, the Governments of Canada and the United States will take of their protests against provisions of the Migratory Birds Convention, a treaty entered into between the two countries twenty years ago.

The convention was designed to protect ducks and geese which each year fly north, lay eggs, rear their young and then fly south again. It forbids anyone taking the eggs. Shooting these birds during the closed season also is forbidden.

Residents of the North, both white and native, contend the birds fly south before the closed season is over, so they never have a chance within the law to shoot them. Year after year protests to the Government against these restrictions have brought no redress, the answer always being it was an international treaty and one country could not change it without the consent of the other.

MAKE TEST CASE

Rev. J. H. Turner and Rev. Maurice S. Flint, the Anglican missionaries there, decided to break open the Migratory Birds Convention Act and thereby set a test case in motion. In June they took twenty snow geese eggs from a nest and ate them, writing Corporal L. E. Corey, head of the Mounted Police detachment at Pond Inlet, September 11, Major D. L. NOT A DISSENTIENT

CHAPTER XLVI

Polly asked quickly, "Do you know Cleaves' first name?"

"Yes," he nodded, "and I know why you ask; Sheila screamed it at the top of her voice on the beach."

"Cecil . . . ?" Polly mouthed the word.

"You're going to New York to check up on him there?"

Angus smiled. "Not on Cleaves—on Brill. Listen, Polly, Brill came to the island at about the same time the Fordells did, about a week earlier, in fact, and in more ways than one he has invited suspicion. But get this—on the strength of what I know now, there is just the barest possibility that Cecil Cleaves is someone we've never suspected. In fact, about the last person we would ever suspect."

"You—you can't tell me what you've learned, Angus? How—"

"No," Angus said promptly. "Not now. When I come back from New York, perhaps." He was silent then, as if debating with himself. Suddenly he said, "I'll tell you as much as I can—give you the picture made up of what I already knew, plus some of the dope I got yesterday from two sources, one of which was the outfit I used to work for in New York." After another pause he began to talk, rapidly:

"You know about Evelyn's previous marriages. She told me herself that she had been married three times, that her first husband was dead, and that her second husband was serving a stretch in the pen for appropriating a neat sum of money. There's nothing in her past sacred to Evelyn. If she lives you, she'll spill the works. Or almost. We've got to admit she hasn't breathed a word about Cleaves' being on the island. But you know how she is."

Polly didn't say anything. "Just twenty-four hours after Fordell was murdered, I got the dope through my old agency in New York that Cleaves had served less than a year before he was granted a second trial and was acquitted."

"Yes," Polly said, "but even when you know that—I mean, why should he want to murder Mr. Fordell? Not simply because Evelyn had divorced him and married another man, surely?"

"Revenge, you mean?" Angus asked. "He may have had some such notion when he got out of prison. Evelyn, by divorcing him, the moment he was put behind the bars, had double-crossed him. And he wouldn't have any love for Fordell, either. But if he was after simple revenge when he started out to find Evelyn, he changed his mind when he found her and learned about the insurance policies."

Polly dug back in her memory. Who was it that had told her about the insurance, days ago? And found the answer: Jerry Brill, of course. He had known all about them, even before Fordell was killed.

"Two policies, Evelyn told me," Angus went on, quietly. "A hundred thousand for me, five hundred thousand for Tod. I asked her if she was to be the beneficiary of the larger policy in the event that something happened to Tod. She said she didn't know. And—" Angus said, raising his voice ever so little for emphasis—"I'd gamble a year's royalties that Cleaves didn't know when he killed Fordell and probably doesn't know yet."

Polly said, puzzled, "I can't see what good it would do Cleaves even if he knew. He isn't married to Evelyn any longer."

Smiling, Angus said, "Polly, the only way he could benefit by either policy, or both, is through Evelyn. By persuasion, threat or compulsion—even if he has to marry her again—he means to have a major part of Evelyn's share. If," Angus said slowly, "Cleaves had been able to learn definitely that Evelyn was not named in the larger policy, he would have disappeared from the island immediately after killing Fordell and kept under cover until Evelyn collected her hundred grand. But Cleaves is still hanging around. And mind you, I'm not thinking of Brill just now. I'm trying not to think of him at all."

But Polly was thinking of Brill. "Tod—" she cried, and the tears suddenly sprang to her eyes. "She shook her head quickly. "No—don't talk about that now." Her eyes closed, tight. "Go on, Angus."

After a little silence, Angus said, "Perhaps I've led you to believe Evelyn is playing ball with Cleaves. I can't bring myself to accept that possibility. Let's go back and put the picture together. Cleaves gets out of prison, locates Evelyn in Washington and manages to send her word when and where to meet him. Perhaps Evelyn is afraid not to meet him. She would be if she hadn't told Fordell about that second husband, and she probably hadn't. Then again, she may have been in love with him, may still be in love with him. Evelyn is one to look out for herself, and when she divorced Cleaves she thought he was to spend the next twenty years in prison. Finding him a free man—"

"He lifted his hands, smiling. "At all events, she meets him and, being Evelyn, spills the beans. Not only about the insurance policies, but about Fordell's plan to leave the capital and move south."

"After that," Angus continued, "we can reasonably imagine him giving her a line. Already a plan is taking form in the unscrupulous brain of his. He tells her he doesn't blame her for getting a divorce; he loves her, always will—and he loves her children as his own. Life has dealt him a cruel blow. His reputation has been ruined by an unjust commitment to prison. But that, he says, squaring his shoulders, doesn't matter to him now. His one and only desire now is to be near her, Evelyn, and her children."

Angus smiled, sadly. "And Evelyn bites. She would, I think. The amazing thing is that Sheila and Julian should be taken in by such an obvious piece of chicanery. Like his mother, Julian has no secrets from those he likes. About a week ago Julian wrote a letter to a friend in Washington detailing the sob story we are assuming Cleaves gave Evelyn. Never mind just now how, but that letter fell into my hands yesterday. This much I can quote: 'Sheila and I are fond of Cecil and enjoy having him near us. It's a bother to be always worrying about letting his real name slip, of course, but I suppose the alias is necessary to cover up that rotten prison record and keep Norris from getting ideas that might lead to an embarrassing situation.'"

Polly was about to speak when, over Angus's shoulder, she saw the door slowly opening. Angus read the alarm in her eyes and turned to find Sheila standing in the doorway.

"Oh, sorry," Sheila said with an apologetic smile. "I was looking for Julian."

Angus said, with as much ease as he could command, "Come on in, Sheila." Knowing, of course, she would not accept that invitation. He turned back to Polly and said in a voice that carried to the living-room: "I'm getting away early to-morrow morning, Polly. If I don't see you again, good-bye and—good luck." His handclasp and his eyes said more, infinitely more—and then he was gone.

Julian failed to appear for dinner, and it was less than an hour later that they found him lying in a pool of blood in the doorway between the dressing-room and the shower under the house.

Shipping Companies Verbally Agreed to Demands of Sailors

Threat of Canadian Seamen's Union to Tie Up Yearly Grain Movement on Great Lakes Was Withdrawn Yesterday

MONTREAL, Sept. 28 (P)—Threat of the Canadian Seamen's Union to tie up Great Lakes navigation on the eve of the great yearly grain movement, was withdrawn tonight as the union announced twenty-two lake shipping companies had agreed verbally to sign a contract providing wage increases for seamen.

J. A. Sullivan, secretary-treasurer of the union which had promised to tie-up about 300 Canadian ships unless its demands for union recognition and pay raises were met by midnight tonight, said 6,000 union and non-union crewmen would receive increases ranging from 15 to 25 per cent under the agreement.

Sullivan, announcing the strike ultimatum was withdrawn after a meeting today with representatives of most of the companies involved, declared the increases were to be effective immediately. Union request for recognition was granted, he added, and the companies agreed to discuss with the new future grievances.

COMPLETE VICTORY
"We will carry on as usual," the union officer said, "and the men in ships along the canals and in lake ports are being advised of the settlement immediately. It is a complete victory for the C.S.U."

"Negotiations with the company officials were very satisfactory. I am glad we did not have to go through with our threat to tie-up Canadian shipping. Now we will have better conditions, higher wages—everything will be better all around. There will be standard union wages for all the men on the Great Lakes."

Sullivan stated the increases would affect not only the 3,900 C.S.U. members, but the 2,100 non-union seamen, "who'll join up with us before long, I hope."

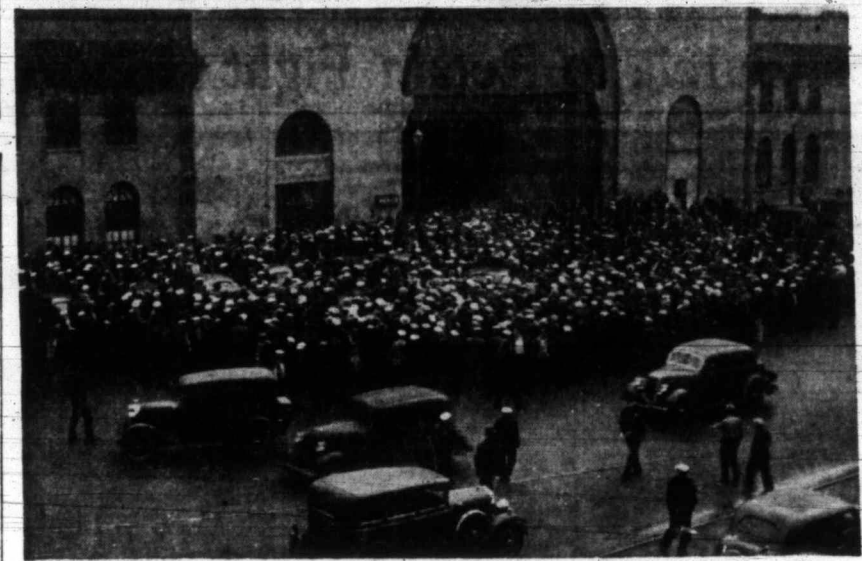

Differences between the companies and the union an American Federation of Labor affiliate, were smoothed first yesterday when Canada Steamship Lines, one of the largest operators; Tree Line Navigation Company, and the Ontario & Quebec Transportation Company tentatively agreed to meet the union demands.

Unless the remaining companies fell in line, the union asserted, the strike ultimatum would be carried out at midnight tonight.

Although union officials set the increase range from 15 to 25 per cent, company spokesmen said the advance would be from 10 to 15 per cent.

Spokesman of the companies represented at today's conference, R. A. Campbell, of the Mohawk Navigation Company, said that while the agreement covers only the remaining part of the shipping season, conditions for next year would be formulated at the union's convention to be held in Montreal, where headquarters of the organization are located, February 14 next, and afterward would be submitted to the shippers in time for negotiations before inauguration of the 1938 season.

Picketing on the San Francisco Waterfront

Propaganda instead of clubs was the weapon used recently in San Francisco's "battle of the waterfront," as 4,000 teamsters quit work to picket all piers in an effort to halt C.I.O. longshoremen from gaining jurisdiction over warehousemen. No violence was reported, as both longshoremen and sailors passed through picket lines without serious opposition. A public address apparatus was erected and Henry Schmidt, president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, addressed the crowd, pleading with teamsters to abandon their picket lines. Photograph shows a throng gathered about Pier 18, where the loudspeaker was erected.

MINERALS IN ARCTIC AREA

Travelers Stake Three Claims and Bring Samples From Baffin Land

HALIFAX, Sept. 28 (P)—With the records of three mining claims, staked on Baffin Island, and mineral-bearing samples, F. McInnes, former Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer and veteran of the Arctic trails, and his companion, J. F. Tibbitt, Saskatoon, geologist of the University of Toronto, arrived in Halifax today on the ice-breaker Nascope. They boarded the ship at Arctic Bay on Admiralty Inlet, Baffin Island.

HAD GOOD FORTUNE

Lean and weather-beaten, these two hardy travelers, pulled into Arctic Bay in August after 1,400 miles by dog team from Churchill. They set out from Churchill on March 15, passing through Chesterfield with natives and on to Repulse Bay. Here they had the good fortune to join a party of ten Eskimos, including women and children, who had come from Igloodik to trade.

McInnes and Tibbitt had ammunition, tea, flour, rolled oats and hard-tack. They shared these with the natives, who had dog teams, and hunted seals, rabbits, birds and caught fish as they went along.

NATIVE FASHION

The expedition lived native fashion and endured storms and Arctic frosts, reaching Igloodik at the top of Melville Peninsula. Obtaining other native guides, McInnes and Tibbitt crossed Fury and Hecla Strait just before the summer break-up and were on Baffin Island early in June.

Both McInnes and Tibbitt declined to discuss claims they had staked until they had reported to the syndicate, headed by Colin Campbell, M.P. for Frontenac-Adair, which financed the search for platinum and gold.

Patrol Commander Aboard Nascope Reports Eskimos Increasing in Numbers

HALIFAX, Sept. 28 (P)—The Eastern Arctic Patrol, fresh from its 10,912-mile tour of the Arctic Archipelago, Hudson Bay and Hudson Strait, returned today on the R.M.S. Nascope, and Major D. L. McKeand, patrol commander, said he was delighted with the health and general conditions of the almost 6,000 Eskimos with whom he came more or less directly in contact during the cruise.

Everywhere the Eskimos were found to be in good health and generally well provided with seal and other foods which form their natural diet. Trapping of fur-bearing animals, chiefly the white fox, has improved.

HAPPY-FACED CHILDREN
"We have definite information, including vital statistics," Major McKeand stated, "to show Canada's Eskimo population is decidedly on the increase. Everywhere we went among them the happy-faced, vigorous children formed a considerable portion of the population."

Major McKeand also said the Nascope participated in the establishment by the Hudson's Bay Company of a post at Port Ross on the southeast corner of Somerset Island at the end of Bellot Strait. "This is really the Northwest Passage the early explorers strove to find. The Nascope came there with a cargo of which was trans-shipped into the schooner Alakrit and taken to Peterson Bay on King William Bay. Thus for the first time, the Northwest Passage was used to convey freight from the East to the West as well as to bring furs from the West to the East."

The expedition headed by J. M. Wordie and sponsored by the Royal Geographical Society, did useful work along Ellesmere Island and adjacent points. We missed meeting them by one day at Craig Harbor on Ellesmere Island. We enjoyed our visit with the expedition headed by Commander Donald B. MacMillan, which centred its activities at Frobiisher Bay, Baffin Island."

SENTENCED TO ONE YEAR IN JAIL

Robert J. Martin will spend one year in the provincial jail at Oakalla following his plea of guilty to having stolen an automobile. Police Magistrate Hall yesterday gave the youth the minimum term in jail for the crime committed.

In passing sentence upon him, the magistrate referred to the very bad record of the youth. He expressed the hope that he would profit from the past and behave himself when he comes out of jail. It was with this hope that he imposed the minimum sentence, he pointed out. The father of the youth professed to say something for his son before sentence was passed upon him, but the boy refused the assistance suggested, stating it would be useless. He also declined to say anything in his own behalf.

Established New Record for Atlantic Crossing

FOYNES, Irish Free State, Sept. 28 (P)—Imperial Airways giant flying boat Cambria arrived here today from Botwood, Nfld., establishing a new record for the trans-Atlantic trial flights now being conducted by British and American aircraft.

Today's crossing was made in 10 hours, 33 minutes, compared with the best previous time of 11 hours, 52 minutes also made by the Cambria last August 9. The Cambria holds the record for flights in both directions. On August 27 it crossed from Foynes to Botwood in 14 hours, 24 minutes.

RADIOTELEPHONE

A contract for the installation and operation of radiotelephone service on the trans-Atlantic liners Manhattan and Washington has been placed by the United States Lines with Mackay Radio & Telegraph Company, it was announced recently by A. J. McCarthy, vice-president of the steamship company. The contract, signed by Mr. McCarthy and Admiral Luke McNamee, president of Mackay Radio, calls for the most advanced ship-to-shore telephone installation developed by radio art up to the present time.

BEACHED AT DRAKE'S BAY

Crew of Lumber Schooner Rescued by Coast Guard Cutter Shoshone

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28 (P)—Twenty crew members of the lumber schooner Caspar were rescued by the coast guard today before the vessel was beached in Drake's Bay, thirty-five miles north of here. One man was injured slightly during the rescue, and five others were left aboard the ship to attempt repairs of a hole in the starboard side.

Capt. John M. Buckley, in charge of the coast guard station at Point Reyes, said the crew was taken off by the cutter Shoshone.

The steel ship was listing 40 degrees to the port, or left side, and a salvage barge was standing by. The sea was calm and crew members were able to remove their personal effects from the ship.

The Caspar, a vessel of 478 net tons owned by the Caspar Lumber Co., sailed from San Francisco at 9 p.m. yesterday for Caspar, Calif., a lumber port on the Northern California coast.

AGED COOK DIES IN BACK GARDEN

Wong Jong, seventy, former Canadian Pacific Employee, Succumbs to Heart Attack

A lifetime of cooking for thousands of passengers on Canadian Pacific coastal vessels was brought to an abrupt end yesterday afternoon, when Wong Jong, seventy, was found dead from heart failure in the back garden at 936 Queens Avenue.

Known to many as plain Sing, the aged Chinese was active at his trade until receiving a pension two years ago. He retired to enjoy the fruits of a lifetime of toil, but took a keen interest in affairs both here and in China. During his time with the Canadian Pacific, he served as cook on most of the coastal vessels.

He was aboard St. Islander when she struck an ice floe to take many passengers to their doom, but was rescued later from a flimsy raft in a weakened condition.

Wong Jong was last seen alive at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon by his daughter, Mrs. Joe Wong. He appeared to be in good spirits, but passed away within one and one-half hours.

For a change, and to add to the flavor when cooking a slice of ham, cover the top of ham with apricots, peaches or pineapple, and sprinkle with dark brown sugar.

Emil Sporri Leading Jockey During Race Meeting at Willows

Veteran Swiss Hardboot Carries Off Honors at Fourteen-Day Meet—Frank Wilbourne Second And Johnny Craigmyle, Local Rider, Third

Emil Sporri, Swiss hardboot and one of the most popular jockeys to ever pilot thoroughbreds to the wire on British Columbia tracks, was the leading rider at the fourteen-day race meeting at the Willows, according to the official figures released yesterday by Jack Short, Western Canada's ace turf announcer and jockey statistician for the meet.

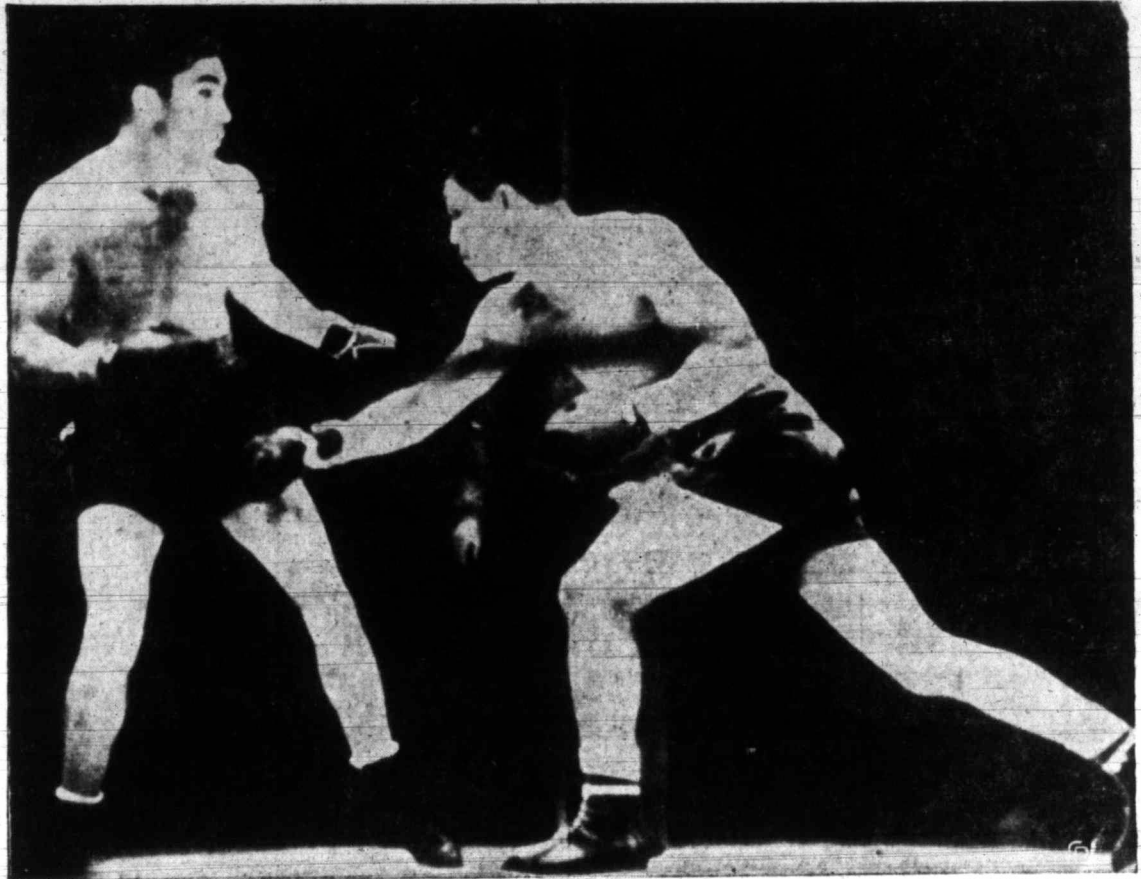

Sporri had a leg up on eighty-three thoroughbreds during the meet at the Willows and brought fifty-three of his mounts home in the money. The veteran Swiss rider won eleven, placed twenty-five times and rode seventeen show horses. Frankie Wilbourne rode sixteen winners and topped this section. Craigmyle, with fifteen winners, finished right behind the Nebraskan. Wilbourne went to the starting gates sixty-six times, while Craigmyle mounted fifty-two times in the fourteen days.

BEST PERCENTAGE
Johnny Craigmyle had the best percentage of mounts in the money during the meet with a mark of .743. Sporri was close behind with .735, and Young third with .681. Wilbourne was an exceptionally close fourth, one point behind Young.

BRYANT SHUTS OUT REDS AFTER SMART DISPLAY ON MOUND

Tall Righthander Gives Up Only Two Hits as He Blanks Cincinnati, 2-0—Giants' Double-Header Rained Out—Still Four Games in Front—Yanks Break Even—Homer by DiMaggio

NATIONAL LEAGUE
CINCINNATI, Sept. 28 (AP)—Clay Bryant, towering righthander, today pitched and batted the Chicago Cubs to a 2-0 victory over the Reds and thus kept alive the flickering flame which is the Chicagoans' pennant hope.

With the Giants rained out of their double date with Boston, the Cubs cut the league leaders' advance to four games, but hardly made things simpler for themselves. The Giants' double-header was washed right out of the schedule. As a result, the pace-setters need only to win two of their remaining seven games to sew up the pennant, no matter what Chicago does in its five. Similarly, two defeats for Chicago or one win for the Giants and one loss for the Cubs would put an end to the "race."

Bryant, in giving the Cubs their straight victory, pitched two-hit ball, batted a triple that drove home Augie Galan with the winning run in the fifth and scored himself a moment later with the clincher on Stan Hack's single.

Portland raked Lefty Hebert for runs in the third, seventh and eighth innings. Singles by Shortstop Dudley Lee and Second Baseman Pete Coscarart scored Liska in the third. Myatt's error put Moose Clabaugh on base in the seventh and he tallied after Fred Bedore's single. Mike Tresh's sacrifice and Bill Cronin's fly.

Nino Bongiovanni singled in the eighth and came in with the tying run on Johnny Frederick's infield hit and Clabaugh's Texas leaguer.

NELSON WINS FROM PICARD IN THE EAST

Scores 5 and 4 Victory in $12,000 Open Match Play Tournament

BELMONT, Mass., Sept. 28 (AP)—Byron Nelson, of Reading, today proved to be a better mudder than Henry Picard, of Hershey, his Pennsylvania professional golfing neighbor and Ryder Cup teammate, as he gained a 5-and-4 victory in the scheduled thirty-six-hole final round of the $12,000 Belmont Open match play tournament.

With three-fifths of the $5,000 finalists' purse at stake, Nelson, whose only previous important 1937 victory was at the Augusta (Ga.) National Invitation Tourney, twice beat back two-hole deficits during his morning round. He then spurred to victory by winning five of the first eight afternoon holes, while going under the 6,317-yard course par of 71 for his thirty-two holes. Nelson and Picard were all even at 71 after their first eighteen.

Rain is the bane of Picard's competitive career, and when he drove off in a pelting storm after lunch, the downpour plagued his only weakness, his tee shots. During his last fourteen holes against Nelson, Picard whacked at least half of his drives into the rough.

Both completed their morning rounds with scores of 71, but Nelson was one under for his last fifteen and Picard wound up five over, after losing five of the first eight afternoon holes.

WITTER HEADS SHUTTLE CLUB

Elected President of Willows Badminton Club at Well-Attended Meeting

Members of the Willows Badminton Club turned out in force Monday evening for the annual meeting held in the Oak Bay Municipal Hall. Plans for the coming season's play were discussed, and officers elected as follows: Honorary president, Colonel G. A. Phillips; hon. vice-presidents, Mrs. A. E. Hodgins and Colonel R. S. Worsley; president, H. B. Witter; vice-president, Colonel A. E. Harris; secretary, R. A. Phillips; general committee, Major J. C. Macdonald, C. H. Jarvis Read, R. Bagley, Miss B. Nelson, Miss G. McCall and Miss M. Barber-Starkey.

It was again decided to enter teams in the Lower Island Badminton League again this season. The question of helping junior players was discussed, and it was suggested that a coach be obtained to teach the youngsters the finer points of the game. The matter has been delegated to a junior committee, consisting of Colonel Worsley, Colonel Harris, W. E. Corfield, Mrs. Macdonald and Mrs. Denison.

A number of new members were accepted at the meeting and, from the enthusiasm shown, a record turnout is expected this season. There are still a few vacancies, and prospective members should telephone the secretary, G. 4886 as soon as possible.

YOUNG STAR IS DEFEATED

Pat Canning Gives Mary Hardwick Hard Battle in Southern Tennis

BERKELEY, Cal., Sept. 28 (AP)—Favored players encountered little opposition in first-round matches today in the forty-eighth annual Pacific Coast tennis tournament, though a fifteen-year-old schoolgirl nearly eliminated one of England's Wightman Cup players in the hardest-fought match of the day.

Mary Hardwick, of England, finally defeated Pat Canning, of Alameda, 6-1, 5-7, 7-5, after the schoolgirl was within a point of the deciding game in the last set. The match lasted more than two hours. Otherwise the foreign and United STATES INTERNATIONALISTS FOUND THE GOING EASY, WITH DON BUDGE, OAKLAND'S DAVIS CUP STAR AND WORLD'S CHAMPION, LEADING THE WAY.

Budge disposed of Henry Gullmette, San Francisco, 6-3, 6-1, while Baron Gottfried von Cramm, of Germany, his closest rival, trounced H. W. Bando, San Mateo, 6-1, 6-1. Senorita Anita Lizana, of Chile, United States national women's singles champion, breezed through Margaret Stein, of San Francisco, 6-0, 6-1.

The only resemblance to an upset was the victory of Jack Lynch, of Taft, Cal., who eliminated Japan's No. 2 star, Nakano, 4-6, 8-6, 6-3. Jiro Yamagishi, Japan's ace, trounced John Murio, San Francisco, 6-1, 6-2.

BEARS FAVORED OVER COLUMBUS

Newark's Great Ball Team Picked To Beat American Association Nine in Series

NEWARK, N.J., Sept. 28 (AP)—Marked superiority in the pitching department—as shown in the cold season records—made Newark Bears the favorites tonight as they prepared to meet Columbus Red Birds in the little world series for the minor league baseball championship. In the backstopping, too, the International League pennant and play-off winners rank well ahead, but otherwise a man-for-man comparison shows the teams on a near-equal footing. Both are loaded with high explosives at bat as they enter the nineteenth series between the International and American Association circuits with clubs boasting collective batting marks of about .300.

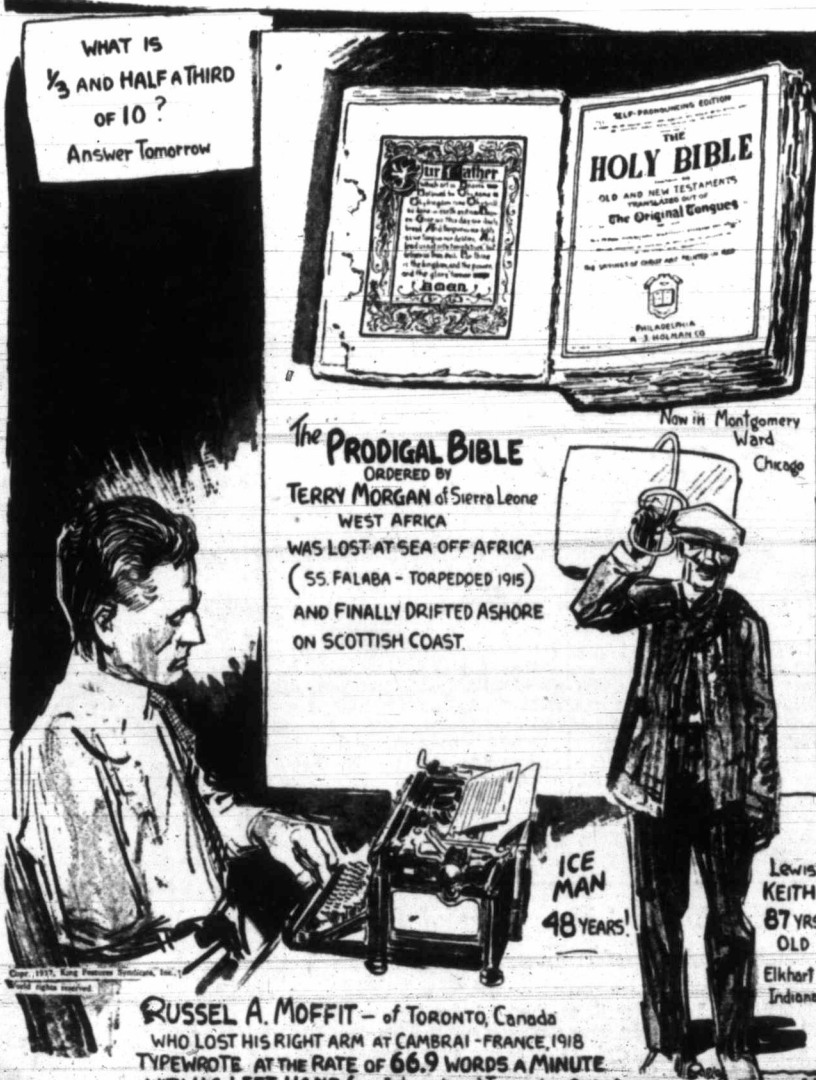

The series, decided on a best-of-seven basis, opens at Ruppert Stadium, home of the New York Yankee-owned Bears, tomorrow afternoon. The second and third games also are listed here, for Thursday and Friday nights. Shifting to Columbus after the third contest, the teams will remain there until one has taken four games.

Batting Power Is Yanks' Advantage Over Other Clubs

(This is the first of a series analyzing the Giants and Yankees, and their world series chances.)

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP).—So far as the world champion Yankees are concerned, there's just one word—"power"—needed to explain everything.

The Yankees have an astute manager in Joseph Vincent McCarthy, the Buffalo Irishman. They have one great pitcher, Lefty Vernon Gomez, and several others with assorted talents. Their defense is reasonably good; in spots like centre field, where Joe DiMaggio roams, it is frequently brilliant.

But the strategy of the American League champions, unchanged since the days when Babe Ruth and company first asserted supremacy in New York's behalf, is still the strategy of the home run.

The Yanks are the greatest run-producing club in baseball. Over the season's stretch to date they have amassed over 870 runs, nearly 250 more than the Giants. Their powerhouse trio, DiMaggio, Lou Gehrig and Bill Dickey, has batted in close to 450 runs, a record unmatched by any three hitters on the same club in major league history.

But there seem to be several reasons, as we see it, why the Giants have a good chance to turn the tables this year on the Bronx bombers, who defeated them in the world's series of 1936.

GIANTS HAVE CHANCE

The factors that appear chiefly to improve the Giants' chances this year are: (1) More batting punch from top to bottom of the line-up; (2) the solution of a two-year problem at third base by the shift of Mel Ott to the hot spot; (3) the added backstopping strength with Hank Danning splitting the job with Gus Mancuso; and (4) the sensational development of Cuff Melton, rookie southpaw, as No. 1 man of the pitching staff.

Between now and next Wednesday when the first act of the big show goes on, you will hear plenty about this Melton, a towering, flapping rookie, who was discarded by the Yankees because he lacked control, but who, in his last seven games for the Giants, has faced 113 batters without issuing a single pass. You will hear, too, that the southpaw hillbilly probably will be Bill Terry's choice over the great Carl Hubbell for the opening game, against Lefty Gomez.

The Giants probably will rotate Melton, Hubbell and Hal Schumacher against a likely Yankee trio of Gomez, Red Ruffing and Monte Pearson.

Hubbell, despite his twenty-one victories, hasn't been the mystery batsman that he used to be. The lean Oklahoma master of the screwball has neither over-awed nor over-powered his opponents during a good share of the 1937 season, but, until proved otherwise, he looms as the No. 2 threat to the Yankees.

Not to be overlooked is the momentum of the drive that has carried the Giants from a seemingly hopeless chase, early last August, to a point where they can now clinch the pennant any day. Believe it or not, during the last month, the Giants have out-hit the Yankees, with six regulars ranging from around 315 to 350 over that span.

IVAN JOHNSON TO QUIT TEAM

Veteran Member of New York Rangers Asks Lester Patrick for His Release

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP).—Ivan "Ching" Johnson, battered forty-year-old veteran of eleven National Hockey League campaigns, has asked for, and been given his outright release, Lester Patrick, manager of New York Rangers, announced today.

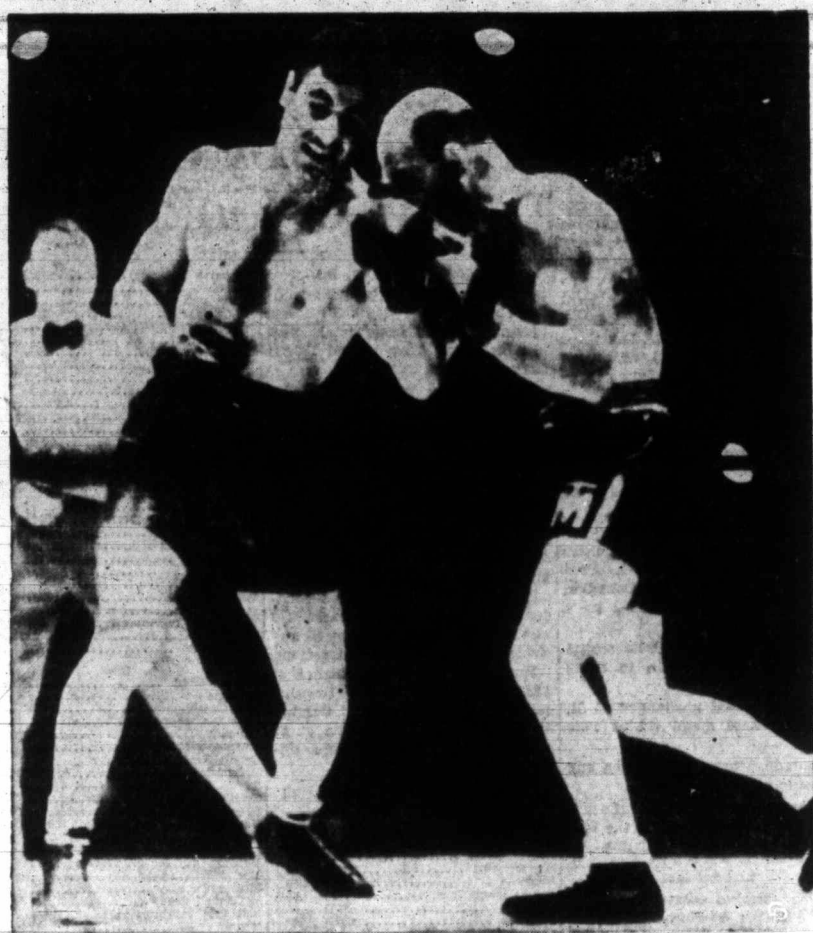

Johnson, a rugged defence star with Rangers since coming East from Minneapolis when the Rangers were organized in 1926, declined an offer to coach Rangers' amateur team, Rovers, of the United States Eastern League, at the salary he received last season. From his California fruit farm Johnson wired he believed he was good enough to play another season and would prefer trying to land a playing berth. He is now dickering with New York Americans.

Rangers also announced they had overcome a league ruling that a player stay out of active competition for one year after retiring and that this would enable them to place Murray Murdoch with Philadelphia, of the International-American circuit.

Imperial Veterans Will Be Honored by Prominent Patrons

Hon. E. W. Hamber, Lieutenant-Governor, and Premier T. D. Pattullo are to give their patronage to the Imperial Veterans' Association's ball to be held on October 15, it was announced at an executive meeting of the association last night.

R. P. Butchart also will be present. "Matters discussed by the meeting under chairmanship of B. F. Seod, included the Corps of Commissioners and a letter was sent to Major-General King, Montreal, asking for information regarding this organization.

Some pension cases were satisfactorily solved and several members who have applied for social assistance are being given attention. It was reported. A satisfactory increase in membership was noted.

The next monthly meeting will be held on October 20.

Boxer Disqualified

SUDBURY, Ont., Sept. 28 (AP).—Referee Vic Skeriton, Regina, disqualified George Pavich, Northern Ontario boxer and wrestler, for trying to wrestle Charlie Belanger, Winnipeg, Canadian light-heavyweight boxing champion, in the fourth round of the main boxing bout here tonight.

A milling fight crowd filled the ring and it was more than half an hour before order was restored. Five policemen were called in addition to the constable on duty. The bout was scheduled for ten rounds.

Referee Skeriton, a former Western Canada bantam wrestling champion, said he disqualified Pavich because he was kicking Belanger after he had thrown the champion to the floor.

Mrs. South Named Captain of Local Club for the Year

Mrs. I. South was unanimously elected captain of the women's section of the Uplands Golf Club for the ensuing year at the annual meeting held recently in the clubhouse.

Salmonbellies to Meet Trail Boxla Team Tonight

VANCOUVER, Sept. 28 (AP).—New Westminster's Salmonbellies mapped a campaign tonight for their clash with Trail in the British Columbia lacrosse finals, and their portly manager expressed the belief the team has the best chance of any since 1927 of bringing the Mann Cup to the West.

As the Westminstermen attended a banquet celebrating their victory in the inter-city finals which they completed last night, Manager "Crummy" Spring said this year's squad was the best since the team brought the Canadian title to New Westminster ten years ago.

Though his mind wandered to the Dominion finals, the coach-manager who has piloted the Salmonbellies Club for more than a decade, was quick to declare he was not forgetting the immediate barrier in Salmonbellies path—the Trail team.

Letters to the Editor

BASKETBALL SITUATION

Dear Sir,—To all affiliated basketball clubs, league and centres in Vancouver Island Amateur Basketball Association.

After reading the Victoria morning and evening papers' report of the Victoria League meeting of September 27, it seems some official statement from the Island Association is necessary to clear the air on amateur matters.

1. The new amateur setup of the Canadian Basketball Association has been approved by International Amateur Basketball Federation, the letter of confirmation was read at the council meeting of the annual meeting of B.C.A.B. Association at my request.

2. Amateur standing of Island teams affiliated with the B.C.A.B. Association who are anticipating playing exhibition games with United States teams must have C.A.B. Association amateur cards, and should the United States teams demand A.A.U. of Canadian cards the B.C. Association has no objection to their teams holding both cards.

3. But it must be clearly understood no Island team will be allowed to enter into competition for league, district, provincial, or Canadian play-offs without all players over eighteen years of age holding the C.A.B. Association amateur cards.

G. E. BONNER,
President of Vancouver Island Amateur Basketball Association.

OPEN PLAY IN TENNIS LEAGUE

Five Matches Played by Squads in Victoria Table Tennis Association

Victoria's senior "A" ping-pongers swung into action yesterday evening in the basement of the Westholme Hotel when the opening matches in the 1937-38 title chase were played.

Victories were recorded in four of the five matches, with the other fixture ending all square.

Liberty Cafe defeated the Melrose squad, 6-4, while the Meteors came through with an 8-2 triumph over the Vancouver Island Coach Lines. Louie Nelson's Garage outdressed the Wildcats and came through with a 6-4 decision. Pioneer Fruit quartette scored the most impressive victory of the evening when they trounced the Musketeers, 8-2. Royal Arcanum and Mount Douglas played to a 5-5 draw.

This evening the senior "B" teams in the Victoria Table Tennis Association will play their initial matches in the championship race. Many new players have been recruited for this division, and while the standard of play is not expected to equal that of the "A" players, some interesting games will undoubtedly be witnessed.

Three People Get Big Daily Double At Woodbine Park

TORONTO, Sept. 28 (AP).—A dream—a killing at a race track—was realized by three persons at Woodbine Park here today when they invested $2 in the daily double and were rewarded with $1,818.05 each.

More than 700 turf followers selected Easter Hatter in the first half of the duel. But only three showed caution to the winds and selected a long-shot, Lotta Welles. She went to the post at more than 25 to 1 and won going away, two lengths better than Vicerine, the favorite.

A. J. Johnson Is Awarded Trophy For Fine Catch

DUNCAN, Sept. 28 (AP).—A. J. Johnson, general manager of Farm Dairies, Limited, Canada, was awarded the Buena Vista Silver Cup when he hooked a forty-five-pound Tyee salmon yesterday at Cowichan Bay.

Mr. Johnson made his catch with a seven-ounce rod.

Coho salmon are now being competed for on a fly and spinner.

TERRIERS TRIM MONTREAL SQUAD

MONTREAL, Sept. 28 (AP).—Orillia Terriers trimmed Montreal Canadiens, 10-7, here tonight in the first of a best-of-three series for the Eastern Canada senior lacrosse championships. Second game of the series will be played at Orillia on Friday.

VANCOUVER SHIPPING

VANCOUVER, Sept. 28 (AP).—Shipping schedules of deep-sea vessels were interrupted slightly today by a fog which blanketed First Narrows last night and early this morning.

H.M.C.S. Skoena and Fraser, originally announced to sail at 6 a.m., did not clear for Esquimalt until 9 a.m.

Ms. Salacia, the new Donaldson liner, anchored in English Bay and waited until 9 a.m. before entering the harbor.

On the Fraser River, Ms. Eknaren, due to sail at 9 p.m. Monday, did not leave her berth until 8 a.m. today.

Schedules of Coast vessels were not affected.

The coastwise freighter Ss. Salvador, which grounded at Squamish on Saturday night and was refloated Monday, was in North Vancouver Drydock today for repairs.

P.D.Q.

Winter Underwear

● These new P.D.Q. garments are so different that they can scarcely be classed with other styles of underwear. It's the amazing simplicity of design that allows such unequalled freedom and comfort. There's no gaping at the neck, and the raglan shoulders have a patented construction giving two-way stretch up and down that eliminates the slightest trace of binding or pulling at shoulders or crotch.

Here are three exclusive P.D.Q. features you'll never want to be without, once you experience their wonderful advantages:

1. Patented two-way stretch manly raglan shoulders that allow easy, smooth freedom of movement without binding or pulling at the crotch.
2. Patented flexible seat that has no flap opening, no gaping and pinching discomfort.
3. Patented neck that means utmost ease in dressing, no buttons, and snug but free fit.

Last, but not least, P.D.Q. Underwear is long-lasting. The Lastex in the neck and seat is guaranteed for the life of the garment. The fabrics are the Harvey Woods quality. Try P.D.Q.'s. Your dealer has them.

STOFER BROTHERS
MAY BE HEARD ON BOWES' PROGRAMME

Victoria's first amateurs to appear before Major Bowes will probably be heard on the major's programme tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock, when Eric and Reginald Stofer are expected to go on the Columbia national network.

Sons of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Stofer, Mount Tolmie, both lads traveled to New York, received their audition and are tentatively billed for this week's broadcast.

Reginald specializes in whistling, playing the musical saw and is also a clever falsetto singer. Eric lists banjo playing among his musical accomplishments.

How It STARTED
"UP FROM THE STICKS"
It was "Big Chief" Myers, the Mission Indian, formerly catcher with the New York Giants, who is credited with having originated this expression, which is now a part of baseball vernacular.

"Up from the sticks" is a variation of the well-known expression "back in the tall timber" for backwoods, country or "bush" league territory.

Chief Myers had a whimsical turn of mind. One day, while he was sitting in a Pullman, looking out of the windows, the train passed through a section of the Southland which was overgrown with tall, skinny pine trees.

"This is sure 'way down in the sticks,'" remarked the Chief. After that, he invariably referred to a minor leaguer who had just made "big time" as having come from "down in the sticks," or as having climbed "up from the sticks."

Eventually, the phrase came to be used in application to all sections not in the American and National leagues; but that was taking in far more territory than Myers originally intended to cover. He simply meant country where there was plenty of timber.

TOURIST TRADE AIDS BERMUDA
Has Replaced Agriculture as Chief Industry on Island, Says Visitor

The tourist trade has replaced agriculture as Bermuda's chief industry, said H. G. Butterworth, of Hamilton, Bermuda, who registered at the Empress Hotel yesterday. He drew a parallel between conditions existing on this Island and in his home.

Mr. Butterworth is a member of the Bermuda Trade Development Board, and is accompanied by his wife, who writes publicity.

During their brief stay here, they visited Butchart's Gardens, and were impressed with the beauties, as well as the green lawns about the majority of the homes in Victoria.

Mrs. Butterworth contends the service between Bermuda and the United States operated jointly by the Pan-American and Imperial Airways four times a week would be of material benefit. She expressed surprise that the Victoria-Vancouver air service had been stopped.

Mr. and Mrs. Butterworth leave for Seattle today, en route for New York and home.

CULBERTSON ON CONTRACT
By Ely Culbertson
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

OUTBURSTS CAN WAIT
The time to "get mad at" a partner is after the hand has been played. (This, of course, is assuming that there is ever a time for such futility.) A declarer who expends a large proportion of his energy and talent on bawling out the dummy can bring only half a mind to bear on problems of play. South in the hand shown below, was so engrossed in assuring his partner that he (North, of course) was a particularly revolting specimen of the genus dope that he (South) missed a beautiful opportunity for a top score.

West, dealer.

The bidding:
West North East South
Pass Pass 1 2
3 Pass 3 4
Double Pass Pass Pass

East's bid was strictly a third hand match-point bid. West, having passed a hand that he was strongly tempted to open originally, felt that matters had gone quite far enough when South got up to the four level, and doubled with a faint note of viciousness, evidently expecting a luscious penalty.

When the nine of hearts was opened and the dummy went down, declarer was inclined to share West's view, and lost no time in berating North for not having doubled three clubs. To North's expostulation that the 6-5-2 of clubs hardly were formidable, South retorted, with some justice, that North had two reasonably certain tricks in his aces and should have had an acute dislike of his (South's) diamond suit.

Unfortunately, South's philippic took so much concentration that he had nothing left for the play of the hand.

Declarer obviously felt that his only chance for a club trick was to find East with the ace. But since that card was (not unnaturally) over the king, the defenders took three club tricks and one diamond, thus earning a 200-point penalty.

Close analysis of the bidding would have dictated a difficult, but winning, line of play. The heart ace would win the lead and a diamond would be played, declarer covering East's ten with the jack. The heart return would be ruffed and trumps drawn without further loss. Two more trump leads would result in the following situation:

FERNAND GRAVET
IN LEADING ROLE

Stars in "Romance in Paris." With Jane Wyman Cast Opposite in Feminine Lead

Jane Wyman built herself up to a terrific let down in preparing for "Romance in Paris." Mervyn LeRoy's comedy production for Warner Bros., which comes to the Atlas Theatre today.

Jane wants to cultivate a French accent for future roles. She thought Fernand Gravet, the Continental favorite starred in the picture, could help her. But when he arrived she learned that, having been educated in London, he speaks with an Oxford accent. So Jane's now practicing an English accent, with the French inflection to come later.

OAK BAY Annabella, a vivid new THEATRE screen personality, as her unusual name, stars with Henry Fonda and Leslie Banks in "Wings of the Morning." Twentieth Century-Fox release filmed entirely in natural technicolor, which shows for the last time tonight at the Oak Bay Theatre.

PLAZA Lovers of Viennese THEATRE waltz music will find "Waltz Time in Vienna" a delightful ear and eye treat in which they can enjoy more than an hour of the melodies of Johann Strauss and Joseph Lanner. This elaborate production is showing for the last time today at the Plaza Theatre.

AMUSEMENTS
On the Screen
Atlas—"Romance in Paris," starring Fernand Gravet.
Capitol—Paul Muni starred in "The Good Earth."
Columbia—"On the Avenue," starring Dick Powell.
Dominion—Kay Francis starred in "Confession."
Oak Bay—"Wings of the Morning," starring Annabella.
Plaza—Adolf Wohlbrück featured in "Waltz Time in Vienna."

CAPITOL Paul Muni and Luise Rainer are starred in "The Good Earth," now showing at the Capitol Theatre. In admirable support of the stars is a cast headed by Walter Connolly, Tilly Losch, Charles Grapewin, Jessie Ralph, and hundreds of Chinese players, outstanding of which is the work of Soo Yong and Keye Luke.

DOMINION Basil Rathbone, leading man in Warner Bros. "Confession," which stars Kay Francis at the Dominion Theatre, prefers free-lancing to being contract-bound, as it leaves him unfettered when he feels the urge to travel. He has more offers of work than he has time to accept, so he picks only the choicest.

COLUMBIA Dick Powell and Madeleine Carroll step out "On the Avenue" with Alice Faye and the Ritz Brothers, who appear with them in Irving Berlin's Twentieth Century-Fox musical of that title, which shows for the last time today at the Columbia Theatre.

GALLI-CURCI TO SING HERE ON OCTOBER 1
Galli-Curci, world-famous soprano, who will sing at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Friday, October 1, says that "singing is one of the few things that demand a full mental, physical and spiritual participation," and also that "singing is a healthful art."

Everywhere this idol of the concert stage is being welcomed back by audiences who realize that although Galli-Curci's voice is now more lyrical than coloratura it has more richness than ever before.

Representatives From Thirty-One Organizations Form Body to Collect Funds and Vegetables

DUNCAN, Sept. 28.—Thirty-one organizations sent representatives to a meeting called by the Ministerial Association to decide what steps should be taken in Cowichan to send relief to the Prairie Provinces.

The meeting, which elected Mayor Greig president and G. P. McMillan secretary, decided to send forward a carload of produce as soon as possible. L. F. Bolly came forward with an offer of half a ton of mixed vegetables and the promise of a subscription toward a second carload, should one be sent.
